German Paper Says Country
in No Position To Refuse
To Sign Treaty

(By the Associated Press)
While sentiment in the German cabinet, according to a Weimar despatch is almost unanimous against signing
the treaty, official Germany has not definitely committed itself on the amended peace conditions.
The German leaders held an extended conference at Weimar Tuesday to discuss the treaty terms, on which hang the future fate of Germany. It is expected that the amended conditions will be laid before the German national assembly today by the cabinet. It is declared that the only thing that might persuade the German government to agree to the treaty is the possibility of political and economic chaos in Germany afterward.
Says Germans Will Sign
Opinion in Paris as to the eventual attitude of the Germans is divided. It is believed, however, that the Germans, knowing the certain results of a refusal to sign, will in the end agree to the terms.

SKEELS MURDER TRIAL

Prof. Whitney Says Body of Miss Gay Contained Arsenic in All the Organs

LAWRENCE, June 18.—Expert testimony that the body of Miss Florence
W. Gay of Andover contained arsenic in all the organs, was given today by Prof. W. F. Whitney of Harvard university, at the trial of Mrs. Bessie M.
(Skeels) Lundgren for murder. The government charges that while nursing the invalid teacher, Mrs. Skeels poisoned her to cover petty larcenies from the Gay home.
Professor Whitney said he made his chemical analysis a year ago. The body of the teacher had been exhumed six months after death in December, 1917. Tests, the witness said, showed the presence of quantities of arsenic in the liver, brain, kidneys, heart and other organs.
Prof. Whitney testified that it was impossible for the poison to have been distributed through the body by any embalming fluid in the manner and to the extent found. Answering a question of Atty. Gen. Altwill, he said death was due to "arsenical poisoning." If poison was administered in one dose, he testified, it would require more than five grams to cause the distribution which he found.
The witness said he saw no evidence of cerebral hemorrhage, which was assigned as the cause of death in the attending physician's certificate.

ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Vincenzo Maitelasso, 38, of 37 Keene street,
John F. Sharkey was arraigned before Judge Pickman in police court today.
A plea of not guilty was entered, and a continuance granted until July 2, to await the result of the inquest which will be held immediately. Bail was set at $2000, which was furnished by Sharkey. It is alleged that Maitelasso was struck by an automobile driven by Sharkey last evening, and died shortly afterwards at St. John's hospital.

POSTAL CO. ACTS TO END TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE

CHICAGO, June 18.—The Postal Telegraph Co., with a view to ending the telegraphers' strike, so far as that company is concerned, today sent a notice throughout the country that strikers would be permitted to return
"with continuity of service" up to and including June 20.

TROOPS REVOLT IN ENGLAND

Unrest Among Canadians
Culminates in Attack on Police—Officer Killed

Much Trouble Among Other Troops Who Oppose Delays in Homeward Sailings

LONDON, June 18.—Unrest among Canadian soldiers in England because
of continued postponement of home-
ward sailings, culminated last night
in an attack by 400 Canadians on the Epsom police station. Several policemen were injured, one so seriously that he died this morning. The purpose of the attack was to release a Canadian soldier who had been arrested.
To avoid further trouble, the police released another Canadian in whom
the mob was not interested.
During the last few days, there has been trouble in the Canadian camp at Whitley where the soldiers burned
huts and did other damage, according to reports. There is much sympathy
here for the Canadians who repeatedly
have been given dates for homeward
sailings, only to be told that further postponement was necessary, owing to strikes of dock workers at Liverpool
and other ports, or to lack of transports. The unrest has not been confined to the Canadians. There have also been protests by Australians and
New Zealanders. Some Scottish units, composed of veterans, recently held a demonstration against being sent back to France, while men who had not seen active service remained in England or are demobilized.

FRENCH SAILORS STORM NAVAL JAIL

tempted to enter the naval jail here
yesterday, to rescue imprisoned sailors.
The attempt failed. There were no casualties.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW BANK BUILDING

The contract for the erection of the new bank building for the Old Lowell National bank in Prescott street, near the junction of Central street, has been awarded the J. Nicholson & Sons of Boston, the same concern that is now building the new town hall in Tewksbury. Although the figures submitted by the contractors were not made public, it was stated this morning that the Nicholson firm had been given the contract because it was the lowest bidder.
According to present arrangements,
the tenant of the building in Prescott street, which will be partly torn down for the erection of the new structure, Roy & O'Hair, will vacate by July 15 and work on the erection of the building will be started shortly afterward.
It is understood that Lowell labor will be employed as far as possible.
Thomas M. James of Boston is the architect for the new building.
The front elevation of the new bank building will be constructed of manufactured granite, while the base and return over entrance are to be of natural stone, polished. A metal panel five feet in width will extend across the front, above the second floor. The entrance door will be of mahogany and grided.
The main banking room will be two stories high and will contain a me-zanine in the rear. The floor will be of white Tennessee marble and the counters of Siena Italian marble.
The main floor will contain four tellers' cages in the commercial department, four wickets in the savings department, officers' quarters, ladies' room and customers' desk. A feature of the new bank will be its safe deposit department, which will be complete in every detail. This will be located in the basement, entrances to be from a wide and easy marble staircase from the main banking room. A large electrically protected safe deposit vault, with accommodations for 2000 safe deposit boxes, six coupon booths, a consulting room and quarters for an attendant will be the features of this department.
The lighting arrangement for the new building will be from windows extending the entire two stories from front and rear. It is figured that the new building, including the purchase of the old building and site, will cost upward of $150,000.

Local Carmen in Open Revolt Against International Union and Will Not Return to Work

Pres. Powers Issues Statement in Refutation of One by Trustee Crowley—Following Order by Vice-President Reardon To Resume Operation of Cars, Union Conductors and Motormen Refuse To Obey—Woburn Employes Strike in Sympathy—Mayor in Communication With Arbitration Board

With the local street railway men
in open revolt against the international union following an absolute and unanimous refusal on their part to return to work on the order of John H.
Reardon, international executive committee member, last night, with the carmen of Woburn out in sympathy,
with an intimation by local President
Thomas J. Powers, that other unions will soon join forces with the Lowell men and make the strike universal
over the Bay State system and with the local company officials remaining obdurate, the strike situation in Lowell today assumed magnified proportions.
It was believed by many that the

ley of the board of trustees regarding
the safe usage of the Rooke register,
and further insisted that the situation
is a lockout and not a strike. He said:
"Fred J. Crowley is a labor appointee
to the board of trustees and is a member at the request of the labor men
of Local 280. We deeply regret that he should make a statement saying the Rooke register can be used with sufficient safety to conductors on open cars. It was only at the last meeting of Local 280 over which he presided,
that he told the members that his first
act as a member of the board of trustees would be toward the elimination of the Rooke register, saying at that time that he had observed after careful investigation that it could not be used with full assurance of accurate
registration on box cars. I again wish to say that the situation is a lock-out
and not a strike. The men are willing to take out the same cars as prior to the lockout, or open cars without the Rooke register, at an hour's notice."
"I also wish to refute the statements
regarding acts of violence toward Mr.
Reardon at last night's meeting. There was none such. As is usually the case,
a number of the men were excited
when threats of taking away the charter were made, but no one laid a hand
on the international officer or threatened to do so. Local 280 cannot lose its charter on the say-so of the Bay
State officials or any one member of the international executive committee."

John H. Reardon, who came to Lowell last night on the solicitation of Mayor Perry D. Thompson, is a vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Car Employes and also a member of the international executive committee. He addressed the local men at their hall in the Runnels building and brought word from President W. D. Mahon of Detroit that the men should go back to work. On a vote the conductors and motormen unanimously refused to return if the Rooke register was to be used on open cars.
After giving up practically the entire day in efforts to bring about a settlement, Mayor Thompson also was present at the meeting last evening.
He was in communication this morning with the state board of arbitration and conciliation in Boston and

asked the members to come to Lowell.
They did not give a definite answer but said they would later send word regarding it.
Early this morning, or directly after the meeting in the Runnels building, Manager Lees, gave out the following statement:
"The appearance of Vice President
John H. Reardon of Worcester before
the men of the Lowell division Tuesday night, bearing an official message
from International President W. D.
Mahon of Detroit that the men must return to work immediately under company regulations and await arbitration of the Rooke register, providing they intend to abide by the agree-

Local Union President.

FRED J. CROWLEY
Street Railway Trustee

coming of Mr. Reardon to address the men last night would bring the controversy to a head and that a settlement would follow almost immediately,
but instead the breach has been widened and the points of contact have been pried even farther apart until today there is not the remotest sign
of agreement or the resumption of the street car traffic which has been abandoned in the city since Sunday night.
The carmen met this forenoon at 10 o'clock and remained in session for several hours. Members of the Lawrence and Woburn unions were present
and the meeting adjourned with the same fixed determination dominant, as far as could be learned. President Powers, giving out a statement, refuted the declaration of Fred J. Crow-ment with the company and to remain loyal to their own parent organization, furnishes new and indisputable proof that the Bay State Street Railway company is right and the men are wrong.

"We feel that nobody can now fail to understand where the responsibility rests for the tie-up of the Lowell system, and that we must protect the public as well as ourselves from such acts of lawlessness."

BRUSSELS, June 18. (By the Asso-

Belgian officials. The whole staff of

League Offers Only Hope of

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Declaring
opponents of the League of Nations have conducted a campaign of misrepresentation and distortion, Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, a republican member of the foreign relations committee, told the senate today that the league covenant offered the only present hope of preventing future and more terrible wars.
"In 20 years of service in the sen-

"I have known but one instrument
whose terms have been so willfully

FRENCH WARSHIP DISABLED AT SEA

Cruiser Jeanne d'Arc Out of Commission — Imperator
Takes Off Passengers

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A wireless message to the navy department early today announced that the French
cruiser Jeanne d'Arc had been disabled
at sea and that the transport Imperator
had taken off Dr. Pessoa, president-elect of Brazil, and his party, who were en route to the United States from Lisbon. The message was sent by Admiral Benson, who is returning home from France on the battleship Arkansas, with which ship the impera-tor communicated.
Admiral Benson gave no details
other than that the Jeanne d'Arc engines became disabled yesterday about
three hours later the Imperator came up and took off the Brazilians. The position of the vessel at the time of the transfer was not given. The im-perator, which is bringing troops home from France, is expected to reach
New York tomorrow morning. So far as was known here, there were no passengers on the Jeanne d'Arc other than Dr. Pessoa and members of his party.
The fact that the Imperator did not stand by the disabled cruiser and that no mention was made of assistance
being required, is taken here to indicate the French warship is in no serious danger. It is believed she will make her own repairs and that the transfer of the passengers to the American transport was simply to avoid delay.
Later despatches to the department
said the army transport Mongolia was towing the Jeanne d'Arc to the Azores
and that good progress was being made.

A resolution asking President Wilson
immediately to remove Postmaster
General Burleson from office, was adopted unanimously today by the American Federation of Labor in convention here.
Lisbon on June 11, with Dr. Epitacio Pessoa, president-elect of Brazil, on board. Dr. Pessoa having completed at Lisbon a trip to various allied countries, including Italy, France, Belgium,
England and Portugal.
The Jeanne d'Arc is one of the old
style warships of the French navy.
She is 175 feet long and has a beam of 43 feet. She displaces 11,270 tons, and her normal complement is 625 men.
The Imperator, to which Dr. Pessoa
is reported to have been transferred,
was formerly one of the crack German
liners and is the second largest ship afoot. She was turned over to the United States by Germany under the terms of the armistice between the allied nations and Germany. She is at present being used as a transport.

Cong. Rogers Flays U. S. Soviets at No. Chelmsford—
Asks Boys To Fight Curse

F. Sibley, Editor Chappell and Col. Herbert Warn of Socialism's Menace

Congressman John Jacob Rogers speaking to an audience of 2,000 persons on North Chelmsford common yesterday afternoon in connection with medal presentation exercises for returned service men and nurses aroused the former soldiers and town's men and women to a high pitch of enthusiasm when he declared:—

"The German flag used to be partly black and soon after the war started we began to believe it was all black—the black flag of pirates. Well, our American boys went in and finished the job of killing that black flag. But, no sooner is that job finished than it looks as if we were to be confronted with the job of killing another flag. I mean the red flag of socialism. It menaces us at the present time and I am sure this important job of putting the red flag in the dust and keeping it there cannot be assigned to hands more capable than those of the boys of whom the town of Chelmsford has such a splendid representation."

The audience was disappointed at the non-appearance of Lieut. Gov. Chandler Cox and Col. Edward L. Logan of the 101st Regiment and added to this was the aerial threat that June showers might descend at any moment.

The Chelmsford folk had good patience, however, and the few stray drops did not dampen the enthusiasm of the patriotic audience.

The exercises, participated in by people from Chelmsford Centre as well as the North village, commenced at 2.30 p. m. The presiding officer was Justin L. Moore, chairman of the board of selectmen. Musical numbers were given by the Waltham Welch company's band. The first speaker of the afternoon was Congressman Rogers, who said in part:

Cong. Rogers' Address

"You are to be congratulated on the success of the program you are giving this day in Chelmsford. Most of all, you are to be congratulated that your soldiers and sailors are back among you safe home again. We broke all records getting men to Europe and we are breaking all records getting them back again. We must break records and we must get them back again as fast as we possibly can. These are the happiest days we shall know and they mark the end of the greatest achievement any country has ever worked."

"These days mark the majestic beginning of a new era. These returned service men are to step forward with us as we face this new era and help us deal with the new problems with which we shall be confronted. We've been dealing with a pirate flag and now we're face to face with the red flag and things for which it stands. We are face to face with the unutterable thing that crowd in Lawrence expressed when it paraded the streets of that city with signs asserting, 'No God, No Country.' No one will be able to cope with this thing as well as the returned soldier. I haven't been able to feel very sorry when I read of some socialist meeting being broken up by returned service men, as was the case in Cleveland."

The Dessert That Saved Betty's Party

"Betty wants me to give a party for her sixteenth birthday next week," sighed Mrs. Ford, "and I just dread to think about it."

"I know just how you feel," sympathized her neighbor.

"It is so hard," she continued, "to know what to have for refreshments that won't hurt them. Custards are no treat for them, my cornstarch puddings are always thin and lumpy, and ice cream is so expensive."

"Have you thought about having Pudding?" questioned her neighbor. "My children love it, and it's so pure and wholesome."

"What is Pudding?"

"It makes a wonderful creamy mold of dessert. Cooks like a box and one box of Pudding serves 15 people."

"Is it hard to make?"

"That's the nice part about Pudding," replied her neighbor, enthusiastically. "It always turns out right, and it is not a bit of trouble to make. All you need to do is add milk, either fresh or condensed, and sugar, and boil for three minutes. Pour it into a mold and after it has cooled you have a firm, smooth mold of delicious dessert—chocolate, rose, vanilla, orange, lemon—in fact, whatever you like best, for Pudding comes in a number of flavors."

"Give a mind to try it, and let Betty have her party after all," said Mrs. Ford.

"As a matter of fact," suggested her friend, "you could have some home-made ice cream. Pudding makes ice cream as smooth as velvet. And not only that, but for cakes and pies, Pudding makes a wonderful filling."

Some time later the two friends met. "I've been waiting to tell you up," exclaimed Mrs. Ford. "Pudding is wonderful. I had the party for Betty, and I don't know when I have seen children enjoy anything as much as they did that Pudding. I had enough left over for supper that night, and Henry said he had never tasted such delicious dessert."

Order some Pudding with today's groceries.—Ad.

Magazine mentioned in his stirring war address.

These names have not previously been printed. They are, Ella M. Burns, Elizabeth C. Devine, Olive G. Eaton, Frances M. Harrington, Marian L. Hartley and Mabel E. Swanson. The girls who pinned the medals on the service men yesterday were: Beatrice Brown, Ida Patagon, Elinor L. Warren, Ethel Tetley, Mollie Lofstedt and Esther Fox. One side of the medal bears the inscription, "Presented by the Town of Chelmsford in cheerful recognition of patriotic service rendered in the world war, 1917-1919."

The reverse has the words, "World War Service." There is an eagle in the center and below it the seal of the town of Chelmsford.

Editor Chappell's Address

"I am one of the men who still insist that the time to have struck against Germany and struck as hard as we could, was when her U-boat sank the Lusitania. I remember going to the home of Elbert Hubbard's mother at East Aurora the last time he ever saw her, prior to his sailing for Europe on the Lusitania."

"He said to the little old lady whom we had roused up at night, 'Mother, it has occurred to me that although living here in East Aurora with you 21 years I have never come over to kiss you good night and now, tonight I have come to do it.' The old mother clasped the man to her and in her baby she cried aloud, 'It is my own boy come back, my own baby come back.' He was one of the Lusitania victims along with over a hundred other Americans who lie buried at that sacred spot, near Queenstown, Ireland."

Mr. Chappell described his visit to the grave of Quentin Roosevelt in northern France and of an account of it he sent to Col. Roosevelt and of the colonel's expressed wish that the body of his beloved son should not be taken away from the country for which he had given his life.

Col. Herbert's Address

The afternoon was nearly gone and the band had started its last numbers when Col. J. F. J. Herbert of Worcester, colonel of the 102nd F.A. arrived, having been delayed by tire trouble and losing his way. A Lowell newspaper friend saw him coming and notified the chairman of the exercises who immediately got busy and held the audience together.

Col. Herbert said, "I regret exceedingly my late arrival here. I think I tried a route from Worcester that if followed through, would have landed me just short of San Francisco. It is good to be among you, my comrades. I wonder if you have found, as I have found on coming back, a somewhat different air among the home folks. They are wondering where we stand and what we propose to do. They want to know where the American soldier stands. I will tell you where he stands I think on one subject."

"The war served to shake out our American flag to such an extent that it shook down some of the reptiles we found had been sheltered in its folds. These have to be gotten rid of. The St. Louis convention named some of them. I am here to tell you that the I.W.W., the international socialists, the anarchists, the slackers, and the conscientious objector have got to be made to walk the plank, and the returned soldiers are the ones most fitted to help to do the job. If the interned alien was dangerous while the war was on, he may be just as dangerous to set free now that it is over. The spark of Russian Bolshevism is among us, too, but it isn't wearing its Russian garb. It, too, must be stamped out before it burns us up. Certain persons have claimed the returned soldier would represent an element of discontent but I assert that if this be so, he will represent constructive discontent and constructive discontent spells progress."

The day's program closed with dances for the service men and their friends held at both North Chelmsford and the Center. Each village also enjoyed a fine band concert and there was a community sing at North Chelmsford under the direction of Albert Edmund Brown.

aerie, scoring still another honor for local Eaglesdom.

TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE

Union Head Says 17,000 Out—Company Officials Regard Strike at End

CHICAGO, June 18.—Officials of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, members of which entered upon a nation-wide strike one week ago, expect a decision today on the attitude the American Federation of Labor is to take toward their trouble with the telegraph companies.

President S. J. Kosenkamp, who is conducting the strike said additions to the ranks of the strikers were being daily reported from various points, and he estimated that 17,000 keymen were out.

Officials of the Western Union and Postal companies said their business was being conducted without any appreciable trouble and that they regarded the strike as practically at an end.

ADM. SIMS SPEAKS AT YALE COMMENCEMENT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 18.—Thirteen honorary degrees and 598 degrees for work in course, were awarded at the 219th commencement of Yale university today.

Recipients of honorary degrees included Rear Admiral William S. Sims, who during the war, commanded the American naval forces in European waters, and Gen. William Josiah Snow, chief of field artillery, U.S.A., who were given degrees of doctor of laws. A similar honorary degree was conferred upon George Wakeman Wheeler, chief justice-elect of the supreme court of Connecticut.

Other honorary degrees were as follows: Doctors of science: Harvey Cushing, professor of surgery, Harvard university; Samuel Wesley Stratton, physicist director of national bureau of standards.

Doctor of divinity: Charles Henry Brent, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church and chaplain general of the American Expeditionary Force; Orville A. Petty, divisional chaplain, A.E.F., and pastor of Plymouth church of this city.

Master of arms: Orville Wright, inventor and aviator; Sanford Hosca Vadhams, colonel medical corps, A.E.F.; Russell Cornell Loffinewell, assistant secretary of the treasury; Charles Albert Coffin, chairman board of directors, General Electric company; Robert Stewart McClenahan, formerly resident of Assisi college, who is now founding a new university at Cairo; Jean Julien Demondant, French soldier and painter, blinded in war.

ear Admiral Sims has shown that the commissary personnel of navies in general are not well trained in the practice of the principles of warfare, however skillful and efficient they may be, other respects," said Rear Admiral Sims, who is president of the Naval War college, in an address. He urged the "imperative necessity of naval war colleges on a better and larger scale."

because of the rapidly changing conditions of war on the sea.

"Our strategic and tactical objectives," he continued, "are the same as they have always been since the earliest days of organized naval operations, that is to strike the enemy with a force superior to that with which he can oppose us at the point of contact. The problem differs in no essential respect from that of Nelson's time. The only difference is that the conditions have become much more complicated, the weapons more destructive and the element of time is vastly more important."

"Under present conditions fleets will open fire at 10 miles or more. The guns may totally destroy a great ship with a single lucky shot. Scores of rapid destroyers will launch torpedoes that have a range of over five miles; aeroplanes will launch similar torpedoes. Other planes will drop bombs of great size, weighing 3000 pounds and still others will control by wireless super-torpedoes, carrying an explosive charge of over one ton. Fleet submarines may be present in great numbers, and many automatic mines may be laid in front of the fleets."

"With both commanders determined to fight a decisive action, the issue will be decided in a very short time, and the result will be the practical destruction of the defeated fleet."

"Our problem is to devise means of applying our practical experience of these instruments of destruction in accordance with the immutable principles of warfare. This will require continuous study. Hence the absolute necessity of a naval war college of as great a capacity as practicable. And in view of the rapidly augmenting power of naval vessels and the increasing number and power of our weapons, not to mention the fundamental qualities of new weapons now in process of development, such a college is more urgently needed now than ever before."

"Nor is it matter how powerful may be our vessels, or how mechanically efficient our various weapons, they will not constitute an efficient naval force unless they are controlled and directed by a personnel well trained and indoctrinated in time of peace that this great force may be handled in battle on sound principles and with a skill at least equal to that of our possible enemies."

ALCOCK AND BROWN ARE HONORED IN LONDON

LONDON, June 18.—London paid tribute yesterday to Capt. John Alcock and Lieut. A. W. Brown during a formal procession in honor of the two aviators who completed Sunday the first nonstop transatlantic aerial flight.

The aviators were carried on soldiers' shoulders from the Euston railway station to automobiles. Miss Margaret Kennedy, Lieut. Brown's fiancée and her father met him on his way from Dublin and accompanied him here.

The parade and demonstration, as arranged, was the safe as were given for Harry G. Hawker and Lieut. Commander Mackenzie Grieve, but excitement over yesterday's event was less marked.

The parade proceeded from the station through great crowds lining Portland and Regent streets, two of the widest of London's thoroughfares. Flags were flown from buildings along the line of march and were waved by women and children.

A band led the way, playing "See the Conquering Hero Comes" and "Rule Britannia." Officers of the Royal Air force and members of the Aero club rode in flag-draped automobiles. A feature of the celebration was an aerial escort, which accompanied into London the two aviators.

At the station a large group of general and other officers, in uniform and wearing their decorations, also numerous persons of prominence, were waiting to greet the two men.

Large as were the crowds in the demonstration, they would have been greater but for the counter attraction, the opening of the season at the Ascot race track.

Americans Start Home

BREST, June 18.—The American transport Zeppelin sailed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the United States, with Commander John H. Towers, head of the American naval sea-plane expedition which recently made the record transatlantic flight, on board, together with Lieut. Commander Albert C. Read, who successfully piloted the NC-4 across on the trip. With them also were Lieut. Commanders Little and Richardson, members of the NC crews.

The naval aviators received a great send-off. French hydroplanes and other types of aircraft hovered overhead, performing gymnastic feats and accompanying the transport to the outer roads. Rockets were fired and many lights displayed.

The aircraft parted from the Zeppelin off the Ushant lighthouse. The transport Mobile left here soon after the Zeppelin. The two ships are carrying 10,000 troops of the 7th Division and the service of supply.

PLAN TO HELP MEET STREET CAR TIE-UP

The following communication is received relative to the car strike:

Editor Sun:—The trolley strike reaching a situation where it may be evident that the Bay State street railway does not intend to attempt to run its cars, I believe it is well to help and when the strike may be said to be in progress without the approval of the parent body of car men, the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, I write, as a reader of your esteemed paper, to ask the public to suggest a plan I believe the merchants of the city should adopt once get behind in order to relieve the bad business situation that is bound to exist in city like Lowell where a suspension of the transportation facilities renders it very difficult for thousands of people to come down town. I believe the merchants should hire or enlist a sufficient number of "jitneys" automobiles, so called, so that at least a fairly service could be maintained in all parts of the city on the streets on which the electric cars usually run. I believe the merchants should hire their own trucks and ask all business people and public spirited citizens to loan the use of their cars for this purpose. By this means thousands of women who have the care of families would be enabled to get to the stores to do their shopping.

It is possible the service should be maintained for women only, or with women passengers given the preference, and the transportation charge be not more than seven cents or a dime. The jitneys are charging more when they go to the outskirts of the city and they cannot accommodate one-tenth of those who wish to ride. It is possible the merchants should plan this service to be carried on during the hours of the day when their previous experience shows the most shopping is usually done.

The enterprising merchant certainly owes a duty to his women customers at this time and it is up to him to show his enterprise in meeting the present emergency by providing a service to help bring the women of Lowell to his store. I can be counted on to do my individual best to help him. Thanking you in advance for your courtesy in this matter, I am, BUSINESS MAN.

TUMULTUOUS SESSION

Mutiny of French Sailors Discussed by Deputies—Vote of Confidence

PARIS, June 17.—Confidence in the government was voted in the chamber of deputies today, 319 to 157, following a tumultuous session during which the mutiny of the sailors of the Black Sea fleet was discussed.

Closing the debate for the government, M. Pichon, foreign minister, declared the trouble was due entirely to Bolshevik propaganda and said the chamber "must decide between the democratic inter-allied policy and the policy of the socialists, who want France to abdicate before the Bolsheviks." The minister provoked a violent outburst from the socialists by declaring that, in his opinion, Bolshevism was lost.

Jules Delahaye, a royalist deputy, created a violent scene by declaring that foreign money was being used for propaganda work in France and that the socialist party had assumed the task of circulating it in the navy; notably at Odessa and Sebastopol. The socialist demanded that the government make a declaration on the subject, but M. Pichon said he had no knowledge of it.

FIGHTERS HONORED BY FELLOW EMPLOYES

The fighting sons of the Lowell Electric Light Corp., recently returned from over there, were given a royal good time at the Harrisonia hotel by their fellow employees last evening. A splendid dinner was the first number of the evening's program, and this was followed by an entertainment which included some of the city's best amateur talent. E. C. Hart acted as toastmaster, and filled the position with his usual ease and grace.

J. A. Hunnewell, manager of the plant, made the address of welcome. Too much honor could not be given to the boys who were willing to leave good positions in civilian life to follow the colors so that true democracy might endure, he said.

Following the banquet, brief addresses were made by Caleb P. Rogers, Jas. J. Sheehan and Frank Harmon. The entertainment program included solo numbers by Miss Blanche McKay, accompanied by Miss Rita Bernard; novelty songs by John W. Clark and William Ryan; banjo and mandolin duo by Miss Evelyn M. Lee and Clark P. Spellman; and readings by Miss Gladys L. Dodge, W. Ernest Mountain was the director of the "sing" which closed the program, and brought out a volume of harmony from the fully 100 guests present.

The hall had been appropriately decorated for the occasion with potted plants, flowers and ferns, with the national colors forming a fitting background.

Leon F. Seekins was chairman of the committee of arrangements. The other members were: Raymond G. Custer, Gladys L. Dodge, Evelyn A. Wilson, Marion L. Davis, Gertrude A. Leggat, Clark P. Spellman, Blanche Gosselin, George E. French and Marie Richardson.

Plain taffeta was and is a good silk for dresses, suits, blouses, and petticoats—but Taffeta with the soft, delicate, lustrous "chiffon" finish is far better and prettier. We are displaying all the wanted colors.

It was designed by the highest fashion authorities, but any woman who can use scissors and a needle may copy it without difficulty. ## VISCOUNT NORTHCLIFFE UNDER KNIFE

LONDON, June 18.—Viscount Northcliffe, newspaper owner and former head of the British mission to the United States, underwent an operation today. A bulletin issued by his physician says that the viscount's condition is satisfactory.

The operation was to remove a deep seated adenoma (an increase of fibrous tissue) of the thyroid gland, which was causing considerable pressure.

LOWELL DRUGGISTS ATTEND CONVENTION

A large delegation of Lowell druggists journeyed to the Hub today to attend the 35th annual convention of the Massachusetts State Pharmaceutical association, which is being held this year at the College of Pharmacy, Boston. The convention opened yesterday afternoon and will last three days. Several talented speakers addressed today's session, including Dean Bradley of the College of Pharmacy, Prof. Copeland of Harvard university and Eugene C. Brookmeyer of Washington.

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisil coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two spoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Multisil coconut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.

SCHOOL BIDS ARE HIGH

Bids Submitted For Morey School Addition Are in Excess of $300,000

Commissioner George E. Marchand of the public property department and Chairman Richard Bradbrook Walsh of the school committee held a conference with Mayor Perry D. Thompson at the latter's office in city hall this noon relative to the unusual situation brought about by the unexpectedly high figures submitted by bidders for the construction of the Morey school addition.

The bids as submitted bring the cost of the addition to more than $300,000, whereas the original estimate was $180,000. Chairman Walsh was of the opinion that the plan to build 15 rooms should not be changed as they would be needed in the near future. Mayor Thompson said that he hoped to have figures on hand in a day or two showing where schools in other cities have been built at a much lower price than that estimate for the local structure.

"DOMINION OF IRELAND"

Things Moving That Way, Says Plunkett—Organization To Oppose Republic

LONDON, June 18.—A Dublin despatch to the Daily Mail says that Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Irish convention, in speaking of a recent remark by Viscount Northcliffe in which the latter referred to the "future dominion of Ireland" said: "I believe things are moving that way. Of this we shall know more a fortnight hence."

Oppose Republic

DUBLIN, June 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—An influential organization is being formed in Ireland under the name of "The Irish Dominion League." It is composed of men who believe that an Irish republic is unattainable and undesirable, but think that a prompt measure of home rule on the fullest colonial lines is urgently necessary.

Among the promoters of the league are Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Irish convention, and many men who were associated with him in the convention, as well as representatives of important business and professional interests.

The proposals mark a large advance on the provisions of the 1914 home rule act, or the two previous home rule bills, and their promotion by men of position is regarded as significant.

A weekly paper in the interest of the league is to be published. It will be known as "The Irish Statesman." The directors include Sir Horace Plunkett, William Butler Yeats and T. P. O'Connor. The contributors, it is announced, will include some of the most distinguished of the workers for Ireland.

LOWELL FOURTH OF JULY PLANS DEVELOPING

Lowell's plans for the Fourth of July are progressing rapidly and the latest development is a telegram received this morning by Mayor Thompson from Joseph Perkins, secretary of the chamber of commerce of America, Ga., assuring him that that city would do its part to make the sale of cotton right by airplane from America to Lowell a success.

Mr. Perkins said that the bale would weigh 400 pounds. Upon its arrival here it will be manufactured into cloth with the imprint of the U. S. air service by the Merrimack Mfg. Co., and it is hoped to make the project a big feature of the holiday's celebration.

Other phases of the celebration are also developing rapidly. Invitations have been sent out to practically every local organization to take part in the parade and it is hoped to have 3000 world war veterans in uniform participate. Prominent state officials have also been invited to come to Lowell for the Fourth.

NATURALIZATION PAPERS

Fifty applicants for naturalization papers called at the court house in Gorham street this forenoon and filed applications for first papers with Clerk Dillingham of the superior court. Between 30 and 40 others received their second papers at this afternoon's session.

C. E. Holton at Cavendish, Vt., is alive after receiving a shock from an electric wire carrying 44,000 volts. It is believed that the only thing that saved his life was the fact that his shoes did not fit and he had previously placed several thicknesses of paper underneath his heel and in front of his toes, making a non-conductor.

Foch Masses Allied Forces

to the terms. It is said by those familiar with the changes in the treaty that the German leaders can, if they wish, make it appear they had gained concessions by negotiation.

Troops Ready to Advance

In the meantime, Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies, has issued orders that preparations be made for an advance eastward from the Rhine bridgeheads as soon as the Germans refuse to meet the allied terms, if that action should be taken. American forces are all ready and if the occasion should require, can start on short notice in battle formation toward the interior of Germany.

Council of Five Marks Time

President Wilson in Belgium and Premier Lloyd George at Verdun today and tomorrow, the council of five will mark time. The only conference of foreign ministers. Final consideration of the Austrian terms is postponed for Friday and it is believed that the Austrians will receive the full text of the terms on Saturday.

Austrian Reply

The Austrian reply to the fragmentary treaty submitted at St. Germain has been handed to the peace conference, and is being translated for submission to the council of five. Nothing as to its nature has been made public at Paris, but Vienna despatches say that newspapers there are publishing a summary of the reply, which seems to consist largely of objections to the territorial clauses of the treaty.

CALL PEACE TERMS "GREATEST CRIME"

BERLIN, Tuesday, June 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—In concluding a violent denunciation of the treatment given Germany by the allies, the Vorwaerts says:

"If the war as the greatest crime against humanity, it is certain there is yet another and greater crime against humanity. That is this so-called peace."

NO STATEMENT FROM CABINET

WEIMAR, Tuesday, June 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—No statement has been issued by the German cabinet on the allied reply to the German counter proposal, but the Associated Press learns that sentiment in the cabinet is almost unanimously against signing the treaty, the only objection being the possibility of Bolshevism and chaos in Germany.

The cabinet met at noon and continued its session until late in the day. The peace commission began deliberating on the entire answer at 6 o'clock tonight. Official circles here were weary since a large number of the cabinet members and other dignitaries stayed up all last night to read the allied terms. Indignation is said to be increasing in Weimar.

NO DECISION BY BIG FOUR TODAY

PARIS, Tuesday, June 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—No decisions were reached at today's sessions of the council of four and all reserved subjects were put over until Friday, when it is hoped that final disposition will be made of them. The missing clauses of the Austrian treaty may be delivered to Dr. Karl Renner, head of the Austrian mission, on Saturday.

SAYS GERMANY CANNOT REFUSE

BERLIN, Tuesday, June 17.—Commenting on the allied reply to the German counter proposals to the terms of peace, the Frankfurt Gazette says: "Whatever we do will be terrible. Germany is in no position to refuse to sign the treaty, when the signature is forced by an ultimatum. Let us resign ourselves to the inevitable and hope for a better future."

TURKS FAVORABLE TO FRANCE

PARIS, Tuesday, June 17.—Three of the Turkish delegates who appeared today before the Council of Ten are said to be friendly to France, while Tawfik Pasha, former Turkish ambassador in London, who has not yet arrived, is reported to be an Anglophile. Apparently there is considerable rivalry between England and France in gaining the good will of Turkey, but the French high commissioner in Constantinople scores by giving the sultan the first news that the conference had consented to hear the Turkish delegates and provided a French warship to bring the Ottoman representatives from Constantinople to Marseilles.

PROTEST FROM AUSTRIAN ENVOY

PARIS, Tuesday, June 17.—Vienna newspapers, according to despatches reaching this city by way of Basle, print despatches from St. Germain stating that Dr. Karl Renner, head of the Austrian peace mission, in his note to the peace conference protests against the detachment of territory from German Austria.

Dr. Renner said that the incorporation of territory of German-Austria in the Czechoslovak state is in contradiction to the principles proclaimed by the allies themselves, and he points out, the despatches say, that the German-Austrian state and the organization of the provinces was effected on the principle that the sovereign will of the people is the creative force of a state.

Complaint is made that German states near the Alps would be deprived of defense and means of existence, their most important industries and most indispensable natural products being taken from them.

Germany and armed intervention by the allies is regarded as inevitable, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Politikon. It is reported that Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the head of the peace delegation and Matthias Erzberger, chairman of the armistice commission, have reconciled their differences. The correspondent says if the report is true, the reconciliation will have an important bearing on the acceptance or non-acceptance of the terms.

The Socialist Vorwaerts of Berlin says it expects a reopening of hostilities as soon as the seven days given Germany to make a reply have expired.

The Fremdenblatt of Hamburg says it learns that the allies terms have caused great excitement in eastern Germany, where the population is ready to re-open the fight.

TROOPS READY TO MOVE ON

COBLENZ, Tuesday, June 17 (By the Associated Press).—The concentration of troops preparatory to advancing further into Germany if the Germans refuse to sign the terms of peace will begin on Wednesday throughout all the occupied area. Orders to this effect were received today from Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies, who sent similar orders to all allied forces on German soil.

Lieut. Gen. Hunter Liggett, commander of American forces in the Coblenz area, said today, after an inspection trip of the bridgehead outpost and the headquarters of divisions along the Rhine, that the American forces were all ready to move ahead at a moment's notice. Leaves to soldiers permitting them to visit recreation points within the American zone have all been suspended until it is known whether the Germans will accept or reject the peace conditions.

If orders come to go ahead, the Americans will advance in combat formation prepared for any emergency, with the artillery and supply trains following close upon the heels of the infantry.

Countess Markievicz was arrested at Dublin last Friday and taken to Cork. She was released from prison early this year after having been interned in May, 1918.

WASHINGTON CLUB HAS

ANNUAL OUTING

The annual outing of the Washington club was the magnet which attracted some 60 or 70 members of that popular organization to the Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro today and, despite the overcast sky, the affair was just as enjoyable and "peppery" as any of the previous outings of the club.

About noon a dozen automobiles rolled up to the club's quarters in Prescott street and took aboard their cargo of picnicers, blissfully undisturbed by the absence of Bay State troopers. The trip to the beautiful grounds in Tyngsboro was made in quick order and the first number on the day's program was an excellent buffet luncheon served by William Havard, steward of the club. Music and speechmaking of a happy character followed the repast and the afternoon was given over to a series of sporting events, the principal feature of which was a ball game between the married and single members of the club.

BROSNAN TO LEAD THE 1920 TEAM

John Brosnan, third baseman, today was elected captain of next year's Lowell high school baseball team. The choice was unanimous and came after a motion by Ray Reynolds, this year's leader, who, although returning to school for another year, nominated his team-mate for the honor. With the occurrence of the election also came the letter awards to the following players: Brosnan, Mahoney, Reynolds, O'Hare, Gleason, Anastas, Birkenhead, Ordway, Lawler, Cahill, Condon, Markham and Manager Mills. Coach Joseph P. Donahue, providing he serves in that capacity next year, and every effort will be made to again secure him, will have a fine nucleus to build on as only three men will be lost to the team through graduation, Mahoney, outfielder; Anastas, pitcher and Lawler, first baseman.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM FOR POSTMASTERSHIP

Three candidates for the position of postmaster for North Chelmsford, took the civil service examination that was held this morning at the local post-office. Among those who took the examination was James F. Dunnigan of North Chelmsford, who is now acting as postmaster, having been appointed to that position shortly after the death of Postmaster John F. McNamee. The subjects for the examination were accountancy and arithmetic, letter writing and penmanship, business experience, education and fitness. It is believed it will be at least a month before the result of the examination is given out. Timothy J. Sullivan, a local mail carrier, was in charge of the examination, which opened at 10 o'clock this forenoon and was brought to a close at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The position carries a salary of between $1200 and $1300 per annum.

Factories where the arbitration contracts are in force are in full operation as are a score of shops which have temporary agreement with the cutters pending a final settlement. The manufacturers hold to their original stand and admit no new developments since yesterday. Eighteen hundred turn workmen will hold a mass meeting at 1 o'clock today to vote on a 45 hour week. All the crafts affiliated with the Shoe Workers' union will have voted on this question by Friday. No one is expected to work Saturday.

CITY CHAMPIONS

Edson Grammar School Team Given a Banquet

John Condon, the miracle man of Lowell amateur baseball and his Edson Grammar school team which has just won the school championship of the city for the eighth time in 11 years, were feted and honored by the teachers of the school yesterday afternoon. Leo King, principal of the school, spoke as did Coach Condon and Tom Cahill, captain of the club. The team went through the season with only one reverse out of nine games played, the only loss making a total of four during 11 years. Some record!

The arrangements for the banquet were in charge of Miss Marietta O'Neill and Miss Anna McCarron, while Miss Frances Webster assisted in serving. The makeup of the team follows: Thos. Cahill, shortstop and captain; Paul Smith, pitcher; Edward Carr, catcher; Jim Corroth, first base; Charles Usher, second base; Tom Colburn, third base; Thomas Ploud, right field; Joseph Marie, centre field; Alphonse Mello, left field and Thomas Dignan, George Dugan and John Kenefick, substitutes.

LOWELL GRADUATES AT HARVARD

Lowell is represented at the commencement exercises being held at Harvard university this week by two graduates, Ames Stevens and John M. Greene, 2d. Greene made an excellent scholastic record. The young men were graduated with degrees of A.B.

"BARGAINS FOR WOMEN WALKERS"

Mr. Merchant, you have a chance this week to advertise on an occasion you never expected would arise and if you had thought of it, you would have hoped, wouldn't arise. We mean the strike situation.

Now, why not devote part of your advertising space for special bargains that will cause thousands to walk to your store? Other bargains and the people will reach you without cars.

The Sun is not allowing the car strike to impede it in its work and responsibility to this community. We are printing more papers than usual this week on account of a run of big news. All papers are being delivered promptly and no reader is neglected. It costs extra money to hire autos to do this, but here is an occasion where money cannot be considered. The papers must be delivered. Real bargains properly advertised will fill your store in spite of the strike. If 15,000 women will walk two miles to see a circus, of course some proportion of that number will walk to take advantage of your business offers. You've got to do the best you can while this strike is on and the best way to maintain your trade is to have a fetching ad in

THE CAR STRIKE

Still the street car service is tied up and the people of Lowell and surrounding towns have to get along as best they can without the service which the state has undertaken to manage for the convenience of the public.

The Sun has always advocated arbitration as a means of settling disputes affecting public service utilities; but it appears that the parties to the controversy forgot all about the existence of an arbitration agreement for the settlement of such disputes.

The fact that the vice president of the international union, with which the local is affiliated, refuses to endorse the strike, proves at least that it is irregular. He bases his decision on the fact that the strike is in violation of an existing arbitration agreement which the international body must sustain if collective bargaining is not to be discredited so far as labor bodies are concerned.

Had the men now on strike followed orders under protest and used the gun registers on the open cars, they could have had the question arbitrated without interruption of the service; but apparently they were not willing so to submit their case.

On the other hand, had the company for the nonce waived its insistence upon running the open cars and using the gun register, it could have continued the service with the semi-convertible cars, which are just as good; and could then have brought the question before the arbitration board. In this way the issue might have been settled quietly and there would have been no interruption of the service.

We are free to say that wise management would have adopted this course. The company could have secured a decision from an arbitration board and also from the international union before overruling the protest of the men. It is doubtful if the men would have decided to strike had the company sought and obtained the aid of higher powers in enforcing the arbitration agreement.

It is plain that the interests of the public were ignored by both sides to the controversy, and for this reason, as we have repeatedly asserted, there is need for a law to protect the public against hot-headed action on one side and lack of sound judgment and foresight on the other, in both of which the present strike offers a good illustration.

LATIN AMERICAN TRADE

The important work of the second Pan American Commercial conference held at Washington early this month, will be emphasized and promoted by the visit to this country of Dr. Epitacio Pessoa, the new president-elect of Brazil, who is due to arrive in New York on June 20, after serving as president of the Brazilian delegation at the peace conference. He has been shown extraordinary honors in France, England and Italy, and should be honored to a greater extent in this country, as representing a sister American republic.

The recent conference was undoubtedly one of the most important ever held between the United States and the Latin American countries. These small nations are looking into the future with clear eyes of the important commercial changes that are at hand. They realize the abject conditions of trade in Europe and for that reason they look to the United States for the necessary co-operation and assistance in developing their natural and commercial resources. They seem to have more confidence in the United States at the present time than ever before; but it is a confidence based upon the hope that we will aid them in promoting industrial development and commercial enterprise.

This the United States is willing to do in a very liberal way. The financial and other interests of this country have cordially endorsed the movement for more intimate business relations with the southern republics. Such sentiments found expression at the recent conference from men well qualified to speak as representing great financial interests and industrial enterprises, men who could easily undertake and finance railroad and other schemes for the development of the South American countries.

The scope of the conference may be judged from the fact that the interests of each country in Latin America were discussed and the general policy of the United States was declared to be one of friendship and readiness to co-operate, so far as possible, with these countries in their endeavors to promote industry and commerce.

Among the subjects discussed were the establishment of ample freight, mail and passenger steamship facilities between the principal ports of the Atlantic, the Gulf and Pacific ports of the United States and the corresponding ports of Latin America; thorough reciprocity and mutual co-operation in commercial relations, including export and import combinations and other aids to commerce. Furthermore, it was laid down as a principle that the United States would meet the legitimate financial needs of the Latin American governments and, to a certain extent, of private undertakings by the establishment of financial institutions and better credit facilities than in the past.

One of the important items considered was the necessity of railroad and highway construction all over Latin America in order to reach regions rich in raw material that would find a ready sale in the United States. From such an earnest discussion of important trade and industrial relations, it would indeed be unfortunate if the opportunity thus offered for mutual benefit should not be fully utilized. Whether it will or not must depend upon the promptness and the cordiality with which the United States carries out the policies outlined at the Pan American conference.

The visit of the president-elect of Brazil to this country will undoubtedly mark the beginning of a more friendly and intimate relation between the United States and the southern republics. It is gratifying to know that no longer does any of the Latin republics harbor any jealousy or animosity towards the United States. They are now convinced that the United States is entirely unselfish in the effort to maintain the Monroe Doctrine as well as to establish the League of Nations with power to prevent war in Europe. If we do not cultivate the friendship of the Latin republics, they will naturally look to European nations for the assistance they failed to secure from the United States.

DISCREDITING WILSON

It is now in order of course for certain newspapers, chiefly of the republican stripe, to represent President Wilson as discredited because the newly organized nations of Europe are not tumbling over one another to apply his fourteen points.

If the president has put forth an idealism ahead of his time or for which the world is not fully prepared, that surely is not a fault for which he should be blamed.

That so many of the great powers of Europe have made even a hollow pretense of accepting those fourteen points must be regarded as a triumph for world democracy.

It is true that few of the European powers seem willing to be definitely pinned down to such ideals. That was to be expected. Indeed, we believe that few of the European nations except France, England, Italy, Belgium and Switzerland are quite ready to apply any such principles of government as Wilson's fourteen points. Indeed, it is doubtful if any of the others can successfully adjust themselves to democratic government.

The peace treaty submitted to Austria provides for a constitution offering equal rights to all. It is doubtful if any such constitution can be successfully applied for the present in Austria. The change from imperialism is too rapid, too sweeping, too radical.

But if it be found that the peoples of the newly organized governments are not prepared for democratic rule, is that any fault of President Wilson or of the ideals he has laid down?

Certainly not. Nor should it reflect in the slightest upon him or his ideals if countries now adopting the republican form of government should find it a hopeless failure and be obliged to return to monarchy.

The success of a democracy presupposes a fair degree of intelligence on the part of the masses. If that intelligence be lacking, then a dictatorship or a return to monarchy will be a necessity.

But never again will the people be enslaved as they were before the war. President Wilson's ideals and his fourteen points will take root in European soil, and will finally blossom into an abundant fruition.

The result will not be seen perhaps in the immediate future; but eventually they will come in an aspiration among the nations, large and small, to move towards the American ideal of government.

It is the worst form of shallowness or wilful misrepresentation to reflect upon President Wilson as responsible for European conditions and to say that the president's mission has failed. He has secured a combination of the nations of the world for the prevention of future wars and for establishing international law on a basis that will hold the most powerful nations as well as the smallest amenable to an international tribunal for their acts of aggression or oppression practised upon other nations.

It is too soon to estimate the far-reaching results that will follow from the League of Nations and the principles on which it is based—principles that reflect President Wilson's endeavor to enforce international justice and inaugurate an era of universal peace that will prevent forever the periodical recurrence of devastating wars.

We surmise that when President Wilson returns, he will present these questions in a new light so as to clear away the clouds of confusion and doubt so assiduously diffused by republican and other agencies for the purpose of discrediting the president for political and other reasons.

Warfare of some sort evidently impends on our Mexican border. The people of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico are as much entitled to protection as though they were living four miles from New York. It is not compatible with the responsibility and dignity of the United States to permit Mexican outlaws to carry on their warfare in such a way that death carrying bullets will come across the border and harm United States citizens. Mexico is, after all, big enough for rebel quarrels to be carried on at a safe distance below the line.

The significant day approaches when we hope the people of the German nation will realize that the culmination of their troubles is the inevitable result of a nation believing she should live for herself alone, with her own interests paramount to the detriment of all other world interests, and at the expense of every good thing in the world if necessary.

The difference between Tennessee's great hero, Col. York, the "one man army," and the hero Alabama had about 20 years ago, seems to be that in hurrying home to his mountain girl and promptly marrying her, the erstwhile sergeant seems not likely to invite the ridicule of being an over-kissed hero.

It seems that Lieut. Brown, navigating officer of the Victors-Vimy transatlantic plane, is going to marry the daughter of a major in the Royal Air force. Here is an instance of one family that cannot very well kick on the daughter marrying a "high flier."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

A young man I know who operates a touring car for pleasure had a rather peculiar experience during the past week in obtaining change from men who sell gasoline. One day he bought three gallons of gasoline and offered the proprietor a dollar in payment. He was handed back four dollars and some change. The next day he had occasion to buy gas again. This time he had a $5 bill, and the man handed him change for $10. He says if this thing keeps up he will quit work, arm himself with bills of small denominations and go out and make a living by swapping bills with owners of gas filling stations.

The 1915 edition of "Who's Who," the well known collection of biographies of the leaders of this country, has just made its appearance and is larger than ever. The entry of the United States into the world conflict necessitated the enlargement of the volume as it brought thousands of people into national prominence who would otherwise not have attained such heights. One of the rules of the editors of "Who's Who" is that certain military and naval ranks entitle their holders arbitrarily to a place in the book and with the great increase in the number of such officials during the war period, there naturally resulted a swelling of the red volume. I note among the thousands of names that of Congressman John Jacob Rogers of this city.

SEEN AND HEARD

For the bank clerks these days, a lift at 9 saves time.

The prevailing question: "Did you walk down this morning?"

Do the women make all the noise they can in the morning, or do we just think so?

Every service man in line and in uniform is the aim of the July 4 parade officers.

At least, one doesn't have to worry about being hit by electric cars when crossing the street.

How do you like this period of almost holy calm and quiet which reigns over our fair city?

The strike gives the big-hearted automobile owner an excellent chance to show his unselfishness. It also shows up the self-centered drivers.

Tom Jenks of Liffen, Idaho, was born in a jail. He's some singer, is Tom, and they do tell there isn't a man in the whole of Idaho, begosh, who can put as much real sentiment in that old "Home, Sweet Home," song as can Tom Jenks. God bless Tom and make a good man of him!

At this stanza of the almanac the average gent gets green onions of the appetite. He gets a strong craving for the long-winded vegetable. The green onion is the pole-cat of vegetables. If you leave 'em alone your word is good in any gathering. But if you get clabby with 'em, you get very unpopular with everybody within scenting distance. The jazz proverb is, "you made your bed of onions, now lie in it, alone!" It doesn't make any difference whether you eat one or 10. As they say in the classics, "the first stone through the window is superfluous." But after Eve munched the apple, the first bit of domestic break came when Adam inhaled a green onion!

Cruel Shopper

"Here's a fine cod!" said the fishmonger admiringly, as he held up a large and flabby fish for his customer's inspection.

"Hum!" replied the lady, doubtfully. "How much is it?"

"Quarter a pound, ma'am," the fishmonger said, in the tones of one who is making a sacrifice.

The lady examined the fish more closely.

"It's not very fresh," she murmured, doubtfully.

"Oh, yes," ma'am! protested the seller. "It's a beautiful fish!"

"That's right," said the fishmonger, angrily, as he saw he had failed to make a sale; "so on insulting it! It's dead and can't answer back!"

night they are lit up. How they do it no one knows. Delacour suggests that their light is merely phosphorescence of fungi—the fungi being the tiny spores of mushrooms which have attached themselves to the swans' feathers as they rubbed against rotting tree trunks in the daytime. The luminosity of the mushroom spore is simply part of its business of living. Some of the food it eats is transformed into energy, which manifests itself in light. This appears in the presence of oxygen being connected with the fungus breathing.

Mary's Little Lamb

"Mary had a little lamb; Its fleece was white as snow. And everywhere that Mary went The lamb was sure to go."

Every college graduate, of course, is familiar with this classic. It was a nice little thing in its day, but sounds a little tame at this writing. For instance, if we were to put the same thought into words today we would probably put it thus: Mary possessed a diminutive sheep, whose external covering was as devoid of color as the congealed aureous fluid which occasionally presents insurmountable barriers to railroad travel on the Sierras. And everywhere that Mary peregrinated the juvenile mutton was certain to get up and get right after her.

The Street Car Man

We sing of our gallant soldier lad, And the sailor who braves the sea, While tales are told of the knights of old In the days of their chivalry. The poet sings till the echoes ring Of the rustic who tills the land, But never a word is ever heard, In praise of the street car man.

Out of his bed in the early dawn, In the rain, in the sleet and the snow, Ahead of the sun ere the day has begun, Hungry he has to go.

With his eye on track and his soul in a sack, With his mind on the air and the land, He swallows a bun at the end of the run— That's the meal of the street car man.

He hears all the fussing and passenger-cussing. He's blamed when the power goes down; When he says, "Forward, please!" the passengers freeze In their tracks with a grumble and frown.

No Sunday for him, for his week never ends. His worries we don't understand; To stay on the job and take care of the mob Is the lot of the street car man.

Sip and consider before you berate, I ask in humanity's name, I'm betting a dime if he isn't on time There's a reason and he's not to blame.

He's as human as you—and his pleasures are few— So treat him as well as you can; Just hand him a smile every once in a while.

He deserves it—the Street Car Man.

Seven honorary degrees were awarded, bringing the total to 169. Honorary degrees were bestowed by President W. H. P. Fawcett as follows:

L.L.D., Provost Marshal Gen. Enoch Herbert Crowder of Washington, Pres. Ernest Martin Hopkins of Dartmouth college, Secretary of Agriculture David Franklin Houston of Washington, Roscoe Pound, dean of the Harvard Law school, Cambridge.

At the commencement dinner following the exercises this morning President Fawcett announced that two gifts had been presented to the university amounting to $185,000. Edgar L. Marston of New York, has given $150,000 for the erection of a foreign language building and $10,000 as a fund for the maintenance of a fellowship at Brown for graduates of the University of Texas, and Jesse H. Metcalf of Providence has given $35,000 for the further endowment of the department of chemistry.

CANCEL ORDER FOR RETURN OF REGULARS

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The 4th and 5th Divisions of Regulars have been removed from the list of units scheduled for early return to the United States, the war department was advised yesterday by Gen. Pershing.

These two divisions were scheduled to sail from France this month, and officials here believe cancellation of the sailing orders would have been made only under plans of the allied high command and with the approval of President Wilson.

ROOT HOLDS CONGRESS EXCEEDED POWERS

NEW YORK, June 18.—Elihu Root declared that "congress exceeded its powers" in enacting the war-time prohibition law, and that "the collector of internal revenue holds the brewers of the United States in the hollow of his hand," in the course of his argument in the United States circuit court of appeals here yesterday against the government's appeal to set aside the temporary injunction granted a month ago by Federal Judges Hand and Mayer. The injunction restrains United States Dist. Atty. Gaffey and acting collector of internal revenue McElligott from prosecuting brewers or interfering with their production of 2.75 per cent beer.

"There are two clouds that hang over this action," said Mr. Root. "One is the penalty prescribed under the act of Nov. 21, 1918, which will break up and put an end to the brewing business, and the other the complication arising from the insubordination of the brewery business to the internal revenue law."

"The brewers," he went on, "are bound hand and foot under the law, even though they are engaged in the manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer. They are not alone subject to prosecution under the 'war-time measure,' but to concerted prosecution under the internal revenue law."

Whereas Congress Went Too Far
Mr. Root, as counsel for the United States Brewers' association, declared that "a business heretofore considered lawful and protected by the laws of the state and the United States is threatened with destruction."

"Hundreds of millions dollars' worth of property is involved," continued Mr. Root, "and if the law is enforced as threatened by the United States attorney general irreparable injury will be done before the possibility of a final hearing in the courts."

The former speaker said there was no occasion for enforcement of the act at this time, as no public interest is endangered by allowing the injunction to remain in force. Referring to President Wilson's recommendation on May 20 to lift the ban on the manufacture and sale of malt and vinous liquors, he said:

"The recommendation did not specify distilled liquors, but the president, as commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States and the person charged chiefly with the conduct of the war, stated that demobilization has so far progressed that he regarded it safe to resume the manufacture and sale of wine and beer."

Mr. Root said the complainants did not challenge the power of congress to call for the sacrifice of any and all property rights in defense of the nation, but said their business could not be sacrificed without compensation unless "necessary and proper," without the mandate and guaranty of the constitution.

He pointed out that the constitutionality of a statute is to be determined as of the time and in the light of circumstances existing when it is sought practically to enforce against the individual, and that a statute may be valid when passed, but have become invalid when it is attempted to be set in operation.

"When congress in November, 1918, passed a law governing matters regulated by the states alone and which should remain in force after the necessity for it no longer exists, then congress exceeded its powers," concluded Mr. Root.

Fitts Sees Otherwise
Asst. Atty. Gen. Fitts, who followed Mr. Root, denied the right of the federal district court to enjoin the United States attorney from enforcing the criminal statutes of the United States.

"A great deal has been said here of the enormous size of the brewing industry and the hundreds of millions of dollars involved," said he. "Is that any golden calf to fall down before and worship? The question is, can any litigant come into a United States court of equity a day in advance, professing wealth and with learned counsel, and say: 'There is a criminal law I desire to offend against. I have got it in my wicked heart to do so. I want the equity court of the United States by solemn decree to advise me and I will go ahead and violate the law.' Such a right has never been granted to any litigant. If it were, what would become of our institutions?"

"This bill was passed as a war measure," continued Mr. Fitts, "to preserve the man power of the nation. Now that our men have gone to the front we are in duty bound to sustain them until the last man is back. This law runs, not only until peace is declared, but until the president by solemn proclamation shall declare that demobilization is complete."

Mr. Fitts said the constitutionality of the war-time prohibition act has been established by decision of the supreme court no longer than Monday a week ago.

No intimation has been given the court as to when the decision in the case should be expected, but counsel for both sides said it was hoped it would be rendered before July 1. It was said by both sides that no matter what the decision may be, it is likely that the case will be carried to the United States supreme court.

Dist. Atty. Gaffey, on opening the case for the government, insisted that if he failed to prosecute under the statute he should be impeached rather than restrained.

The statute, according to Mr. Gaffey, "created two new crimes and provided penalties." He also claimed it applied to all "beer," regardless of whether it was intoxicating or not.

The three presiding judges are Henry W. Rogers, Charles M. Lough and Henry G. Ward.

SEPTEMBER MORN ARRESTED IN JUNE

NEW YORK, June 18.—A lady bathing in a brook, a lady clad in nothing and very little of that, was the spectacle that caught the eye of Patrolman Jameson of the Nutley, N. J., police force last Saturday afternoon as he tramped along the hot and dusty road on his way to police headquarters. The brook was between Hillside and Franklin avenues, Nutley, near the Fortnightly club, and had about a foot and a half of water in it, hardly enough to cover the nothing that the lady had on, let alone the lady.

The lady was standing up when Patrolman Jameson first saw her, but as soon as she saw him she sat down hurriedly and tried to hide behind a bit of weed, meanwhile unostentatiously splashing water over her toes.

"What are you doing there?" asked the policeman.

"Bathing," replied the lady.

"You come out of that and put your clothes on," ordered Patrolman Jameson sternly. "You're disgracing yourself."

The lady said she wouldn't do it, and the policeman didn't know how to make her. So he telephoned for a patrol wagon, and it came presently with Reserve Patrolman Brown. But still the lady refused to put her clothes on, and the task appeared too much entirely for a couple of policemen. So they summoned various of the feminine populace of Nutley and these ladies formed a screen and helped the bathing lady on with her clothes, while the policemen studied astronomy.

Before Recorder Post the lady of the brook said she was Miss Marion Greyson, 23 years old, of Rome street, Newark, although the residents of that street say they know her not. The Recorder sent her to jail for ten days.

The Pictures Are Before You, CHOOSE!

"NAP-A-MINIT"

Used by Dr. Gagnon in His Superior PORCELAIN DENTISTRY

Take a good look at these pictures—they tell the story of two kinds of dentistry. The left hand picture is of a man being treated in the old harsh method employed to this day by many dentists. Note the rigid position of the patient as he sits upright, gripping the doctor's arm, hindering him in his work, and making his own pain necessarily greater. Every nerve in his body is on edge—every muscle tense—he is indeed the personification of fear and pain. This is dentistry as I do not do it.

Now turn to the picture on your right. Here you see restfulness and relaxation, a patient that feels no pain, yet is in control of every other sense. He can talk and hear and watch the doctor, unhindered, do his very best work. This is an example of dentistry as I do practice it.

This is what "Nap-a-Minit" has done for all my PATIENTS. "Nap-a-Minit" is a positive pain destroyer and absolutely eliminates all pain in dentistry. With its use, one may have teeth and roots extracted, nerves removed, cavities prepared and filled, crowns and bridge-work inserted and every conceivable kind of dental operation performed without the slightest fear or dread because it will not hurt.

Now that you have seen the two pictures and know the story that they tell, it is up to you to choose if you have dental work to be done. Will you have pain and harsh treatment or will you have "Nap-a-Minit" and no pain at my offices? There is little doubt about your answer and when you come here you will find the greatest service and value-giving dental offices in New England.

ENGLAND TO DEPORT ALL WAR ALIENS

LONDON, June 18.—In consequence of riots at Liverpool, Cardiff and elsewhere, in which colored men have participated, the British government has decided to repatriate at the earliest possible moment all aliens who came to England during the war, according to the Daily Mail. The bulk of these are Chinese, the others including Swedes, Danes and Norwegians.

Many negroes who are in England are British subjects and cannot be deported against their will, but an attempt will be made to induce them to go by offering free passage and money.

Thin People Should Take Phosphate

Nothing Like Plain Nitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as Nitro-Phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by A. W. Dows in Lowell and most all druggists under a guarantee, not satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, Nitro-Phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

BICYCLIST HIT AND KILLED BY AUTO

Vincent Magallacio, aged 28 years, and residing at 27 Keene street, died last night at St. John's hospital as a result of an automobile accident, which occurred at about 10 o'clock near the corner of Central and Chapel streets. The automobile that figured in the accident is owned and was operated by John F. Shaykey, of 227 Concord street, who claimed that while he was driving his car through Central street, Magallacio, who was learning to ride a bicycle, rode right into the path of the machine and before the auto could be brought to a stop the young man was struck and run over.

The injured man was rushed to St. John's hospital in the ambulance. In the machine with Sharkey at the time of the accident was Edward L. Regan, of 283 Concord street. Magallacio has no known relatives in this city.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

THE STRAND
Retribution in swift and terrible form makes complete the triumph of love in "Two Women," the latest Anita Stewart picture that will be shown for the last time at the Strand today. You can't afford to miss this really commendable picture. Miss Stewart is seen in one of her most sensational roles and Earle Williams is one of the supporting cast.

LOUIS BENESSON in "Sandy Burke of the U-Bar-U" is the other feature number on the bill, and this too is praiseworthy. A great Vitaphone comedy and the latest Universal Weekly are also shown, and Miss Gertrude Brown, the soloist, is making many new friends each succeeding performance.

TOMORROW Thea Bara in "The Strong Song" and Albert Ray and Billie Fair in "Words and Music" will be shown for the first time tonight. Don't forget that the Strand is always "cool and comfortable."

JOHN MCCORMACK NOW U. S. CITIZEN

NEW YORK, June 18.—The night that he thrilled his first audience is incidental, and the moment that he realized that his fame was world-wide is of slight consequence, John McCormack, the Irish tenor, declared yesterday upon becoming a citizen of the United States.

The ceremony which made him an American took place in the state supreme court. He was accompanied by several friends. It also happened to be his 35th birthday.

When the court congratulated him, the sad voice that made "Mother Macree" a classic, replied: "My heart quivers a bit," and when he took the oath of allegiance his answer was: "Will? Well, I should say so—so help me God."

McCormack's ambition to become a citizen last St. Patrick's day suffered disappointment when he made application and learned three months more must elapse between declaration of intention, accompanied by presentation of first papers, and actual admission to citizenship.

Treasurer Christopher of Sacramento County, Calif., has received a letter from W. J. Hicks at Portland, Or., asking forgiveness for not having paid a poll tax when he lived in California in 1907. Hicks explained in his letter that he was a finer then and did not pay the tax, but since then he has gone through a period of transformation and now wants to right himself with the world. Treasurer Christopher answered the man's letter, saying that Sacramento county was only too glad to forgive him, and incidentally informing him that the poll tax has long been abolished in California.

LEGS GAVE OUT—COULD NOT WORK

"Some time ago," said Peter Grenier of 95 John St., "I began to suffer with headaches on the top and back of my head. My stomach was in terrible shape. Rheumatism set in. My legs would give out and tremble so I could not stand very long at a time. I was short of breath, dizzy spells, coughed and spit a lot and could not sleep. I had to get up several times a night, and altogether things got me so I had to give up work. I could not afford to lie idle long, so began to inquire about some medicine that would help me. I heard so much about 'GOLDINE' being a good medicine I decided to give it a trial anyway. So I started in and I am mighty glad to say I am back at work again, rheumatism is gone, no headaches or dizzy spells, my legs are now in good shape and I am eating and sleeping fine and feel well and strong. It is surprising to me, as well as my family, what 'GOLDINE' did in such a short time, and I can only speak of that medicine in words of praise."

(Signed) "PETER GRENIER"

The demand for Goldine has grown so large in the city of Lowell that we have established agencies at the following drug stores: Burdick & Burdick, 418 Middlesex St.; P. H. ## CLEVELAND LICKS THE PLATTER CLEAN

Cleveland won both of the holiday games in Boston yesterday by scores of 4 to 3 and 3 to 2. The two victories gave the Indians a clean sweep of the present series, each contest being decided by the margin of one run. Lack of hitting power cost the Red Sox dearly. They staged a ninth inning rally in the forenoon tilt, but were stopped short by Joe Wood with the tying run on the bases. The old Boston speedster made his 1919 debut in the box and threatened the champions in the matinee show. Pennock was hit harder than Guy Morton. Speaker's double and a safe bunt by Larry Gardner gave Cleveland the odd run. Babe Ruth hammered a home run into the right field bleachers in the sixth inning.

Chicago cleaned up the Philadelphia series by taking the final game, 7 to 6. Faber was batted hard, but Korr stopped the noise. Johnson held the Tigers to four hits and won 2 to 1. Shore pitched his first full game of the year against St. Louis and, although hit hard at times, defeated the Browns, 5 to 2.

LOWELL ELKS WIN

Revere Lodge Defeated in Baseball, 5 to 2

Playing steady ball in the field and hitting opportunely, the baseball nine of the Lowell lodge of Elks won the fraternal championship of New England yesterday when the Elks of Revere were defeated during the Elks' field day festivities at Medford, by the score of 5 to 2. George Mangum and Harry Plets did the battery work for the Lowell lodge and performed splendidly. Lowell had a cheering section, led by Commissioner James E. Donnelly, 100 strong, and furnished plenty of noisy support. The local lodge carried away a large silver trophy for its victory, the first to be won by the Lowell Elks for 13 years.

BOZDEK'S PIRATES ARE RUNNING WILD

Rain again forced the Braves to remain idle in Cincinnati yesterday. Pittsburgh going great guns, topped the Phillies, 6 to 0. Miller pitched sensational ball, allowing but five hits, while Jacobs was hit timely and frequently. A home run drive by Dool Laskert gave Chicago a lead which New York could not overcome, the Cubs winning, 7 to 2. Causey was driven from the box and was replaced by Don Carlos "Pat" Ragan.

MORAN OUT TO BEAT CHARLIE PARKER

If Johnny Moran of Lowell who toppled over opponents at a rapid clip while a member of the U. S. navy and succeeded in winning the lightweight championship of the world continues his victorious record and disposes of Charley Parker at the Crescent A. A. tomorrow night he will take a big step toward the New England lightweight title. Since returning to civilian life he has won two clean cut victories and he is set on attaining the championship. A win tomorrow night will put him in line for matches with Kloby Britt or any other man of his weight in this section. He has trained carefully for the bout, boxing daily with Frank Molins and Phinney Boyin, and both aver that he is in great condition and should win over Parker. Boyle has met Parker twice, and after boxing with Moran, he feels that Moran has the ability to turn back the hard hitting Boston boy. Despite the other night, Parker feels confident that he will retain his lost prestige, and put Moran out of the way. There is much interest in the semi-final scheduled for tomorrow night between Tony Vallan and Young Chakas. Both are rugged and aggressive battlers, with splendid records. Happpy Conley of Lowell and Charlie Connors of Lawrence, two great rivals, will meet in one preliminary and Young Diamond and Willie Green, both local boys, will appear in the other six-round event.

The Call'em

From all we are able to gather this fellow Kloby who took and gave his wallows along with other Y.D. boys, is now making a specialty of giving almost entirely. He gave to Boyle and repeated his gracious act against Charlie Parker. When he gives, he parcels out his wares with much gusto and considerable sting. We should imagine, he dropped Parker like a stone, a clean k. o., and incidentally it was the Boston batter's first submarine to the canvas for the full and doctored count.

A Pull House

This story is given to the Call'em as very much on the up and up; indisputable, as "revere." A stranger happened along down in Georgia during a ball game between two colored teams. The team at bat had the bases full with no one out. The pitcher unwound and shot the ball over.

"One ball," droned the ump.

Again the ball floated up.

Again.

"Three balls."

And again.

"Four balls, and you-all is out."

"How come I is out?" demanded the batter, approaching the umpire, his history swinging.

"Because I ain't got no place to put you on the bases," came back the ball.

Of below-the-Mason-and-Dixon line.

No Balm in Gilead

Blonde Carl Mays must begin to feel like a second Walter Johnson. The Red Sox pitcher has really been turning in some beautiful games, but during the last 40-odd innings his team has not made a single run behind him. No-hit, no-run pitching would profit him nothing under the existing conditions.

Shake 'em Up

With all the different men Stallings has tried in his outfield in the last few years it would seem that he ought somehow to strike a combination that would suit. But no. George has had more trouble selecting a trio of outfielders than Mack has in endeavoring to build up a team since 1914. A short while ago Fred Smith was put in left field and temporarily hailed as "there." Then the Braves bought Walton Cruise from St. Louis and they had a "red." He played a week or two and Jim Thorpe was secured from the Giants, just to be used as a pinch-hitter. The latest shift is to bunch Cruise and play the Indian regularly. Who's next?

LARRY CONLEY CALLS FIGHT "NO BOUT"

The bout between Joe Eagan and Tommy Robson at the Armory A. A. in Boston last night was stopped by Referee Larry Conley in the eighth round. The referee did not believe the boxers were trying their best and the fans seemed to have the same opinion and greeted the contestants with yells and cat-calls. Conley warned the fighters three times before Robson displayed none of his former aggressiveness. Eagan doing most of the leading, but his punches lacked steam.

The other bouts were good. Mike Castle of Lawrence defeated Charlie Elkins of Boston in six rounds and Young Drew of Lawrence was stopped in one round by Charlie Brennan of Charlestown.

THE RAINBOW TROUT IS ANGLER'S DELIGHT

For the angler who has a fondness for the husky, bulging tug of heavy-bodied fish at the end of 30 or 40 feet of silken line, Idaho has a number of refuges where rainbow trout are found in numbers and sizes to delight the heart of the most fastidious. Writes O. J. Jones in the Idaho Statesman, with the fighting tenacity of a bulldog, a rainbow weighing from six to 11 pounds will test the best tackle and will give the fisherman an opportunity to call forth all the skill and ability he possesses to win the fight that follows the strike of one of these fighting residents.

What a thrill it gives the earnest fisherman, after a few fruitless casts with spinner and attached pork rind or other trailing bait of cut bait, to feel a strike that fairly carried the rod from his hand and drives the hook home, as the shimmering body of the fish leaps into the air, throwing a spray of water in a flapping arc that ends in a splash as the line tightens again to the screaming resistance of the reel while the big fish takes the offensive in a mad rush for cover and entanglements that mean disaster to the luckless fisherman.

With the rainbow repeating his aerial flights at the end of his mad rushes as he is checked in his stride, the angler covers to gale cover, the fight continues until the tired, dogged scrap of the fish finally settles to a relentless tugging that seems tireless, as the fisherman plies his skill to retain lost line, and finds the weight of the fish in the stream's current about all his tackle will stand, then finally settles to a wearing deadlock to tire the big fish into submission.

This is finally accomplished as yards of line are reeled in slowly but surely until the sun's rays down in the water betray the presence of the fish in silvery flashes that are blurred with red and a mottled dark-colored back as the fish does a sort of spinning, whirling dervish stunt in his last efforts to gain his freedom.

Like a bunch grass broncho, who has lived his wild, free life according to his own dictates, the rainbow submits to the leading string only when exhausted and overpowered. He fights to the last ditch and is crested only when there is not another drop in his muscular, graceful body that is slipped skillfully into the maw of a landing net. A landing net is almost an essential piece of the fisherman's equipment when after these prizes, as a lost rainbow is quite an item to the angler at the end of his day, and with so much weight on straining tackle a last feeble flop may be the one that is needed to free the biggest fish of the day, as an awkward landing is made on the shore, or a hook is torn from the fish's mouth in attempting to raise the quarry above water to get a hand hold in its slippery gills. It is much easier and safer to ease the big fighter into the waiting net, for a fish is never caught until, safely crested. This is more than applicable to rainbow trout with their tenacity that has a bit of scrap left to the point of exhaustion. With this sort of fishing the angler is kept on the alert throughout the day as every strike that is well hooked means a hard-fought battle that ends in either a disheartening slackening of the line that spells defeat to the fisherman or to a victory that adds glory to the catch of the day.

RAIN INTERFERES ON OPENING DAY

WOONSOCKET, June 18.—A heavy shower which broke after four boats had been run out short the opening day's program of the Bay State circuit races at the Woonsocket Trotting park yesterday. A record crowd for a first day was in attendance.

When the judges announced that the unfinished races would be added to today's card, the crowd had two heats in the 2:23 trot and Jesse Gentry and James Albert one mile to their credit in the 2:21 pace and 2:16 pace respectively. All winners were favorites.

USING STEAM TRAINS

The residents of Billerica, who are employed in this city, or who have business in Lowell, continue traveling from their homes to this city by steam trains and it was reported that yesterday was a banner one for the B. & M. as far as transportation was concerned. The school sessions in the town have not been handicapped in any extent on account of the street railway strike, for the automobile trucks are being used for the transportation of pupils from their homes to the schools.

WILLARD-DEMPSEY BOUT

Rickard Confident No Further Attempt Will Be Made To Prevent Match

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 17.—Tex Rickard, promoter of the heavyweight championship between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey here July 4, yesterday expressed his satisfaction over the defeat of the bill in the Ohio legislature last night, which would have empowered Governor Cox to prevent the match.

"I have every confidence that there will be no further attempt to interfere with the making of the exhibition," said Rickard.

Admirers of Dempsey are surprised over the weight of the challenger, who tipped the scales yesterday at 201 pounds wearing only his trunks and boxing shoes. The weighing was done in the presence of nearly two score of newspapermen, a great majority of whom believed that the challenger would scale somewhere between 150 and 160 pounds.

Willard has a new sparring partner in camp, who promises to be of valuable assistance. The man is Joe Chip, a middleweight of Newcastle, Pa. He is fast, lets his punches fly from all angles and half a dozen times yesterday caught the champion with stinging blows to the head and body.

GEN. MARCH HONORED

Degree Conferred Upon U. S. Chief of Staff at Amherst College Commencement

AMHERST, June 18.—The degree of doctor of laws was conferred at the Amherst college exercises today upon General Peyton C. March, chief of staff of the United States army. Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, Solomon Bulkeley Griffin, formerly managing editor of the Springfield Republican, and Howard Bliss, D.D., president of the Syrian Protestant college at Beirut, Syria.

In conferring the degree upon General March, who is a son of the late Prof. Francis A. March, a graduate of Amherst, President Melklejohn said: "Your father, sir, we taught the ways of peace and greatly he learned them and taught them to other men. You learned from him and other teachers the ways of war, learned them so well that when the military crisis of the world had come this people made you its army's chief of staff. Your country faced a task which human kind believed could not be done. The task was done and victory came. And we with all your fellow countrymen, unite today in paying tribute to you, who, as the army's immediate chief, have borne the burden and made sure the outcome."

WAR RESPONSIBILITY

Germany Fearing Effect on People, Forbids Publication of Memoirs of Moltke

PARIS, June 18. (French wireless service)—The German government, according to reports received here, has forbidden the publication of the memoirs of the late Lieut. Gen. von Moltke, chief of the general staff at the outbreak of the war.

It is said that the memoirs contain passages concerning events in 1914 which would produce an unfavorable impression in Germany with regard to the question of war responsibility.

The general, it is said, severely criticized the policy of Germany during the period prior to the war. One newspaper here says that a diplomat, who read the forbidden book, declared that the publication of the work was stopped for the same reason that caused the German government to postpone the publication of official documents.

It is said that the von Moltke memoirs will be published only after the peace treaty is signed.

TRENCH FEVER MAY LAST FOR YEARS

ATLANTIC CITY, June 18.—Discussion before yesterday's session of the American Surgical association, participated in by Sir Robert Jones of Liverpool and Col. Antoine de Page of the Belgian Medical Corps, revealed the fact that American procedure is fully abreast of the most advanced practice in Europe.

New to the gathering was the declaration of Dr. Muscovitz of New York that nature is a wonderful ally in operative cases of chronic empyema, where special care is bestowed upon the sterilization of the wound, the latter practice having been the largest element in many remarkable discoveries.

"Little has been said thus far," Dr. R. D. Rudolph told the convention, "about the chronic form of trench fever, which may last for months and even years, with a tendency to become acute if the patient undergoes any strain due to hard work, physical or mental."

The association unanimously dropped from its roll of membership yesterday all German and Austrian honorary fellows.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

Doings of the Screen Artists

Winifred Westover is a charming young screen actress with a past. She is reminding the other day and mentioned that while in a convent she had written a play. Yes, a little book of verses, a melodramatic murder and one kidnapping. The story was based on the conventional "ever" after the final curtain 10 years ago. Winifred, the hopeful, was the heroine of all longings for she received a knocking that made her a writer of today's dramas—sometimes a knock on the head was "The Truth" that Never Fails.

Word has been received that Naomi Childers, the screen's Greek girl, who is playing opposite Tom Moore at the Hollywood studios, is a popular actress in Japan conducted by a Tokyo newspaper. A generous portion of Miss Childers' mail is from admirers in Japan, and she recently contained a request from Ito Tanski, a leading Japanese artist, for a photo from which he might make her portrait.

Having won her way to the picture public's heart through her charming personality and talent, Florence Vidor, who in private life is Mrs. King W. Vidor, wife of the brilliant young director, was the heroine of serious film workers until her little daughter Suzanne arrived last Christmas. Thereafter the portrayal of an effective role, including of some strong dramatic story seemed insignificant to her when compared with "mothering" little Suzanne, and she has steadily turned a deaf ear to the many attractive contracts offered her by different studio managements.

Ruth Roland is spending a few days on Santa Cruz island, a mere dot in the Pacific, just off the southern California coast, but a wonderful picture location. She is enjoying some rare sport—goat hunting, which is new to her, positively.

Douglas Fairbanks is 36 years old now, and declared a holiday last day ago so that the whole studio could help him celebrate. Even his young son came out west for the express purpose of seeing daddy. Several barrels of powder and a case of blank cartridges were used in the various wild west dances and other amusements. Fred Barnes, the famous cowboy, gave "Doug" a real Wyoming horse, and others in the company presented the star with useful presents.

A miss from Louisiana has written Charlie Ray for a picture. Nothing strange in that the way she asked for it tickled the youthful star. She said it was like wanting something real bad to want a picture of him. Just read this: "Did you ever want anything real bad? Did you ever want one of your girls to break a date for you? Did you ever want a piece of over need a new suit for a party—and your pocketbook said, No, it can't be done. And did you ever want a lot of things that you were not sure you could have? Well, that's the way I feel about asking you for a picture—please, please, do send me one." Charlie said.

Despite the fact that inclement weather forbade taking of scenes for Billie Burke's new Paramount picture

some days ago, 50 wounded doughboys from the Greenbush hospital who were to witness the filming were given an afternoon's pleasure by Miss Burke. At her insistence luncheon reservations at the Plaza Grill were made for the entire party, and afterwards she took them to see a musical comedy.

Glady's Leslie's latest photoplay is scheduled for release by Vitagraph this week. It is said to be a screen version of "Too Many Crooks," which was published in All-Story Weekly. J. Rath is the author. The story deals with a young woman playwright who becomes involved with an ambition to write a crook play after having seen a performance of that type on the stage. Glady's Leslie and Jean Paige are seen in the principal roles with Huntley Gordon as the master crook.

Madge Kennedy is soon to begin work on "The Wrong Door," the new story written for her by Jesse Lynch Williams. The picture is said to be a production with rich and colorful scenes taken in both the west and the east. The glory of the west has never had a more poetic presentation on the screen, it is declared.

A genuinely novel story, with original turns of plot and spirited action is the description given of Peggy Hyland's next play upon which this talented star is now hard at work. The title is "The Red Sea Horse." In this production Peggy plays the role of Patricia Hilton, daughter of a rich and aristocratic family.

Will Rogers of Zeigfeld Follies fame, will leave New York soon to work for the Goldwyn pictures in a series of pictures that will give the Broadway star a chance to register his adeptness at western stunts as well as at coming quips and gags to put his audience in good humor.

"The Way of a Woman," originally announced under the title of "Nancy Lee," and adapted from Eugene Walter's stage play of that name, will be Norma Talmadge's next Selig picture. Conway Tearle will play the leading male role.

JUNE BRIDES LEARN TO COOK—

SALADS, LIKE WOMEN, REQUIRE GOOD DRESSING.

Written Especially by Oscar of the Waldorf.

Salads are neglected in the ordinary household, probably because they are not provided in sufficient variety, and principally because they are accompanied by the invariable French dressing or mayonnaise.

A delicious salad can be made of absolutely any article of meat, fish, vegetable or fruit, and it provides a simple means to make good use of the "left overs."

Dressings can be varied by the addition of finely chopped herbs, onions, pickles, olives, pimientos, green peppers, celery, Chili or Chutney sauce and many other flavorings. Here is a good dressing:

Put the yolks of 2 raw eggs into a basin with 1 teaspoonful of salt and beat them well; then add a drop at a time, one pint of well mixed with the eggs, stir in 1 teaspoonful of made mustard, 1 tablespoonful of chili vinegar, and 3 to 4 tablespoonfuls of plain vinegar. Beat together until all these ingredients are well incorporated, then add a small quantity each of sugar and cayenne pepper. Turn the mixture into a bottle, and keep it tightly corked until wanted.

This is my receipt for Brunswick salad:

Wash and cut fresh celery root into finger sizes and soak it in water for quarter of an hour. Peel and boil 4 truffles for 3 minutes in a little Madeira wine. Rub the inside of a basin with a clove of garlic, put in the yolks of 4 or 5 hard-boiled eggs and mash them to a smooth paste with a spoon; then add 1 teaspoonful of mustard, 1 teaspoonful of oil and a small quantity of vinegar. Drain the celery roots and the truffles and mix them with the eggs. Season the salad, turn it into a salad bowl, sprinkle over a small quantity of chopped tarragon and cloves and serve.

A simple chicory salad may be made this way: Pare off the green leaves from 2 heads of white endive and cut away the roots, wash thoroughly, drain well on a napkin, place them in a salad bowl, season with salt and pepper deluted with 2 tablespoonfuls of vinegar and add a tablespoonful and a half of sweet oil. Mix thoroughly together and serve.

For many years E. C. Lake, a Eugene, Ore., marble worker, has had no door to his salesrooms, as he thought no one would steel tombstones. Recently he reported to the police that a headstone had been stolen. It was a stone without marking, and Lake said he believed the person who took it was preparing for a future decoration of his own grave.

The French-speaking sailors and soldiers of this city, who took part in the great world war, are requested to attend a meeting which will be held at the C.M.A.C. hall in Pawtucket street Sunday noon at the close of the 11 o'clock mass. At a recent meeting of the committee the resignation of P. N. Cossette as treasurer was accepted after Mr. Cossette had explained that he will leave shortly for Canada, where he will spend the summer. Hector Dupuis, who was assistant secretary, was elected treasurer and Joseph A. Trudel was chosen as the successor to Mr. Dupuis as assistant secretary. The following finance committee was appointed to co-operate with the pastors of the various parishes: Louis Poissant, chairman; Joseph Provost, Victor Salois, Timothy Roy, Albert Bergeron and Hector Dupuis.

HELPING WOMEN TO FIND WORK

Women ought to know what the United States employment service means to them in particular. A great many thousands do know, but they are, for the most part, the women who live in cities where the service has an office.

In these cities, a woman has only to go to such an office, and tell the trained and systematic woman in charge of it, that she wants work. Her application may be filled at once with work in her home city. Or, if she has had special training along some particular line, her application may be referred to the offices of every state. When a position is found for her, no charge is made either to her or to the employer.

Perhaps she lives far from an office of the employment service. If she does, she may write a letter to the nearest office, telling what she is qualified to do, and in what location she prefers to be. A skilled woman will take charge of her request, and fill it with the greatest speed and satisfaction possible.

But more offices should be established. Many women who might avail themselves of the help of the organization if an office was located in their own communities, do not place faith in the letter writing plan. They want to see immediate action. So, in order to give the United States employment service the full capacity for service of which it is capable, public-spirited women of the country should take up this work, and see that offices are established and kept in their own home towns.

The women in the Chestnut Hill district of Philadelphia were called to remove the body of a supposed dead negro from the uppermost branches of a tall Eucalyptus tree. It appears that the negro had gone aloft to prune the tree. The spring sap oozing from the newly cut twigs, filled the air with an aroma not unlike some rare Egyptian incense; a subtle breeze stirred the young leaves into a rhythmic motion, and the negro had hunked his arm over a stanch branch and passed off into the land of dreams. He has promised the women not to go aloft to sleep again.

NEW FACTS ON THE IRISH CASE

Further Evidence of Alleged Atrocities Laid Before President Wilson
Delegates Request Wilson To Urge Prompt Hearing by Impartial Tribunal

PARIS, Tuesday, June 18.—Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne, American representatives of the Irish societies in the United States, have laid before President Wilson further evidence just received of alleged atrocities against political prisoners in Ireland. Some of the witnesses were American citizens, it is said, and in the course of the evidence they say they have "examined cells in which Irish revolutionists have been confined and have found fresh blood on the walls."

Mr. Walsh and Mr. Dunne request President Wilson to immediately lay the additional facts submitted to him before the peace conference and urge a prompt hearing by an impartial tribunal. The Irish delegates have received notice from the secretary of the conference that the resolution on the Irish question passed by the United States senate has been presented to the conference. They have also been informed that their previous report on atrocities has been forwarded to the state department in Washington for transmission to congress.

Comment on MacPherson's Denial
LONDON, June 18.—While several newspapers welcome the statement made yesterday by James Ian MacPherson, chief secretary of Ireland, as a "complete and crushing refutation of Irish-American falsehoods," the Daily News thinks he would have done better to let the charges by Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne "answer themselves as some of their allegations could only be believed by those who wish to be deceived."

"As it is," the newspaper continues, "the public will not hesitate to admit in some of Mr. MacPherson's details. His statements scarcely conceal the fact that the present government of Ireland is purely a military occupation and that the bulk of the population is organized against it. The power of the Sinn Fein is written all over Mr. MacPherson's reply."

McCumber Defends League

with the rest of the world in some scheme to prevent war, what will happen? Assuredly as the sun shall rise, every great nation will proceed to devise means for the wholesale destruction of nations. So desperate will be the next war, that all the hate and all the venom created by this struggle will be infinitesimal compared with the next.

Quoting the declaration of Senator Johnson, republican of California, that America by virtue of her isolation does not need the European powers "as partners," Mr. McCumber said isolation had long since broken down, a European quarrel having cost this country in the past five years $5,000,000,000,000.

"Of course not one of us would have written the covenant just as it has come to us. But this covenant represents the deliberations of nations. It deals with complex situations. It comes to us as a compromise compact. And to secure the support of this country special concessions have been made to us. Our Monroe Doctrine is by this instrument given a world sanction."

"The members of the league undertake to preserve the territorial integrity only against external aggression. It has been asserted and reasserted in all the false attacks on this instrument that the United States would be compelled to help Great Britain preserve her domain against her own internal revolutions or rebellions. Nothing could be more false. It is only against external aggression that the league assures its protection.

"The members of the league agree to the reduction of national armaments. We have preached the reduction of armaments for years. Now, present to me, if you can, a better or a safer plan than that provided in this treaty, or else acknowledge frankly that we never intended to conform our acts to our declarations."

Referring to charges that the United States would be at a disadvantage in the league because it has only one vote, the speaker said important decisions would be made in the council where the only votes would be one each for the five great powers, with unanimous action required to effect a decision or to transfer the consideration of a question to the assembly. Answering objections that Great Britain would have too many votes in the assembly, he continued: "What would be the danger to us of having Canada, Australia and New Zealand, blood of our blood and bone of our bone, made members of the assembly? You give black Halli-vote, you give black Liberia a vote. But you deny the great independent commonwealth of Canada the right to raise her voice."

"But you say that the question of whether the matter complained of is a domestic one must be decided by the council. Naturally someone must decide that question. But remember that the verdict must receive the affirmative vote of every state in the world, outside the parties to the dispute, and that the whole world must wickedly, contrary to and in defiance of the provisions of the compact, conspire against the United States. And to carry out such a conspiracy each nation would commit an act of suicide by establishing a precedent that would compel it to surrender its own purely domestic powers to a world league."

Mr. McCumber also declared he personally would be opposed to leaving Germany out of the league, fearing that action might lead to future divisions and jealousies.

LOWELL Y.W.H.A. HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

The first annual banquet of the Lowell Y.W.H.A. was held at Highland hall last evening, and the 100 members of the organization who were present unanimously voted the event a complete success. Atty. Benjamin Worwood of Boston, a former president of the Boston Y.W.H.A., was the principal speaker of the evening.

The hall was prettily decorated with streamers of red, white and blue, potted palms and greenery. Following a most enjoyable repast an entertainment was run off under the direction of Mrs. Louis Carp, and the evening concluded with general dancing.

The entertainment program included the following numbers: Violin duo, Miss Louise Crowley and Wesley Davey, with accompaniment by Miss Esther Crowley; songs, Rose Brownstein; cornet selections, Arthur Heller; recitation, Miss Mary Cohen; novelty dances and songs, Dora and Marie Dewire. Assisted by Bernard Knopf; songs, Mae Sanderson; banjo, mandolin and piano trio, Eckland sisters; songs, May Wren.

This committee to whose efficient work the success of the event was mainly due consisted of Mrs. Louis Carp, chairman, and Mrs. M. Harris, Miss Mae Levine, Miss Bessie Braverman, Mrs. Rose Bichwit, Mrs. Frank, Mrs. Leo Cohen, Miss Catharine Brest, and Miss Mildred Stoll.

The officers of the organization are: President, Mrs. R. J. Quinn; vice-president, Miss Mae Levine; secretary, Miss Sarah Shapiro; financial secretary, Miss Rose Brownstein; and treasurer, Mrs. Max Carp.

Don't Postpone Window Glass Work

According to one of the best authorities, the chances of an advance in window glass prices are stronger than ever. We learn that the indications certainly are not for lower prices. The big glass houses of Boston have advanced the cost of glazing thirty cents per hour where work is done outside of that city.

This situation should prompt Lowell property owners to anticipate, rather than defer their needs in window glass and glazing.

The glaziers employed at Coburn's are practical, clean and steady workers; capable of handling the most complicated jobs of glazing. They are master-hands at restoring broken windshields and resetting glass in auto lamps and limousine doors.

It is now a good time to attend to repainting of windows; Coburn's men do this work neatly and quickly. They are accustomed to installing new window sash cord, and making glass repairs in all styles of show cases. In point of fact, no job is too small, or seemingly trivial for this department's best attention.

Let us have the measurements of what may now be needed in window glass—We shall be glad to give you estimates.

German Paper Says Country
in No Position To Refuse
To Sign Treaty

(By the Associated Press)
While sentiment in the German cabinet, according to a Weimar despatch
is almost unanimous against signing
the treaty, official Germany has not
definitely committed itself on the
amended peace conditions.

The German leaders held an ex-

to discuss the treaty terms, on which
hang the future fate of Germany. It is expected that the amended conditions will be laid before the German national assembly today by the cabi-

thing that might persuade the Ger-

is the possibility of political and economic chaos in Germany afterward.

Takes Off Passengers

Dr. Pessoa, President-Elect of Brazil, and Party Transferred to Transport

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A wireless
message to the navy department, early
today, announced that the French
cruiser Jeanne d'Arc had been disabled
at sea and that the transport Imperator
had taken off Dr. Pessoa, president-
elect of Brazil, and his party, who were en route to the United States
from Lisbon. The message was sent by Admiral Benson, who is returning
home from France on the battleship
Arkansas, with which ship the Imperator communicated.

Admiral Benson gave no details
other than that the Jeanne d'Arc engines became disabled yesterday about
three hours later the Imperator came up and took off the Brazilians. The position of the vessel at the time of
the transfer was not given. The Im-
perator, which is bringing troops
home from France, is expected to reach
New York tomorrow morning. So far
as was known here, there were no passengers on the Jeanne d'Arc other
party.

The fact that the Imperator did not stand by the disabled cruiser and that
no mention was made of assistance
being required, is taken here to indicate the French warship is in no
serious danger. It is believed she will make her own repairs and that the
transfer of the passengers to the American transport was simply to avoid delay.

Later despatches to the department
said the army transport Mongolia was
towing the Jeanne d'Arc to the Azores
and that good progress was being made.

Lisbon on June 11, with Dr. Epitairo Pessoa, president-elect of Brazil, on board. Dr. Pessoa, having completed at Lisbon a trip to various allied countries, including Italy, France, Belgium,
England and Portugal.

The Jeanne d'Arc is one of the old
style warships of the French navy.
She is 475 feet long and has a beam of 65 feet. She displaces 11,270 tons and
her normal complement is 625 men.

The Imperator, to which Dr. Pessoa
is reported to have been transferred,
was formerly one of the crack German
liners and is the second largest ship afloat. She was turned over to the United States by Germany under the terms of the armistice between the allied nations and Germany. She is at present being used as a transport.

Unrest Among Canadians
Culminates in Attack on Police—Officer Killed

Much Trouble Among Other Troops Who Oppose Delays in Homeward Sailings

LONDON, June 18.—Unrest among Canadian soldiers in England because
of continued postponement of home-
ward sailings, culminated last night
in an attack by 400 Canadians on the Ppsom police station. Several policemen were injured, one so seriously that he died this morning. The purpose of the attack was to release a Canadian soldier who had been arrested.

To avoid further trouble, the police
released another Canadian, in whom
the mob was not interested.

During the last few days, there has been trouble in the Canadian camp at Whitley where the soldiers burned
huts and did other damage, according
to reports. There is much sympathy
here for the Canadians who repeatedly
have been given dates for homeward
sailings, only to be told that further
postponement was necessary, owing to strikes of dock workers at Liverpool
and other ports or to lack of transports. The unrest has not been confined to the Canadians. There have also been protests by Australians and
New Zealanders. Some Scottish units,
composed of veterans, recently held a demonstration against being sent back
to France, while men who had not seen active service remained in England or are demobilized.

FRENCH SAILORS STORM NAVAL JAIL

BREST, June 18.—Two hundred French sailors, carrying a red flag, attempted to enter the naval jail here
yesterday, to rescue imprisoned sailors.
The attempt failed. There were no
casualties.

The imprisoned sailors were from the French battleship Justice, which arrived here from Sebastopol.

The city is more calm today, but the situation is considered to be still serious.

Brest has been declared out of bounds for American soldiers and sailors.

Local Carmen in Open Revolt Against International Union and Will Not Return to Work

Following Order by Vice President Reardon To Resume Operation of Cars, Union Conductors and Motormen Refuse To Obey—Woburn Employees Strike
in Sympathy—Mayor in Communication With Arbitration Board—Pres. Powers Issues Statement in Refutation of One by Trustee Crowley

With the local street railway men
in open revolt against the international union following an absolute and unanimous refusal on their part to return to work on the order of John H.
Reardon, international executive committee member, last night, with the
carmen of Woburn out in sympathy,
with an intimation by local President
Thomas J. Powers that other union men will soon join forces with the Lowell
men and make the strike universal
over the Bay State system and with
the local company officials remaining
obdurate, the strike situation in Lowell today assumed magnified proportions.

It was believed by many that the

THOMAS J. POWERS,
Local Union President.

coming of Mr. Reardon to address the
men last night would bring the controversy to a head and that a settlement would follow almost immediately,
but instead the breach has been widened and the points of contact have been pried even further apart until today there is not the remotest sign
of agreement or the resumption of the street car traffic which has been abandoned in the city since Sunday night.

The carmen met this forenoon at 10
o'clock and remained in session for several hours. Members of the Lawrence and Woburn unions were present
and the meeting adjourned with the
same fixed determination dominant, as far as could be learned. President
Powers, giving out a statement, refuted the declaration of Fred J. Crowley.

ley of the board of trustees regarding
the safe usage of the Rooke register,
and further insisted that the situation
is a lockout and not a strike. He said:
"Fred J. Crowley is a labor appointee
to the board of trustees and is a member at the request of the labor men
of Local 280. We deeply regret that he should make a statement saying the Rooke register can be used with sufficient safety to conductors on open
cars. It was only at the last meeting
of Local 280 over which he presided,
that he told the members that his first
act as a member of the board of trustees would be toward the elimination
of the Rooke register, saying at that
time that he had observed after careful investigation that it could not be used with full assurance of accurate
registration on box cars. I again wish
to say that the situation is a lockout
and not a strike. The men are willing to take out the same cars as prior to
the lockout, or open cars without the Rooke register, at an hour's notice."

"I also wish to refute the statements
regarding acts of violence toward Mr.
Reardon at last night's meeting. There
was none such. As is usually the case,
a number of the men were excited
when threats of taking away a charter were made, but no one laid a hand
on the international officer or threatened to do so. Local 280 cannot lose
its charter on the say-so of the Bay
State officials or any one member of the international executive committee."

John H. Reardon, who came to Lowell last night on the solicitation of Mayor Perry D. Thompson, is a vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Car Employees and also a member of the international executive committee. He addressed the local men at their hall in the Runkels building and brought word
from President W. D. Mahon of Detroit that the men should go back to work. On a vote the conductors and
motormen unanimously refused to return if the Rooke register was to be used on open cars.

After giving up practically the entire day in efforts to bring about a settlement, Mayor Thompson also was present at the meeting last evening.
He was in communication this morning with the state board of arbitration and conciliation in Boston and

asked the members to come to Lowell.
They did not give a definite answer but
said they would later send word regarding it.

Early this morning, or directly after the meeting in the Runkels building, Manager Legg, gave out the following statement:

"The appearance of Vice President
John H. Reardon of Worcester before
the men of the Lowell division Tuesday night, bearing an official message
from International President W. D.
Mahon of Detroit that the men must
return to work immediately under
company regulations and await arbitration of the Rooke register, providing they intend to abide by the agree-

loyal to their own parent organiza-

his party were welcomed with military

A resolution asking President Wilson
immediately to remove Postmaster
General Burleson from office, was adopted unanimously today by the American Federation of Labor in convention here.

After alluding to President Wilson's message to congress relating to democratization of industry based upon recognition of labor's right to participate in decisions affecting its welfare, the resolution declares that Mr. Burleson "has pursued a labor policy in direct conflict with this enunciation of principle," and that the postmaster-general "characterized as silly, the rights to collective bargaining." The resolution charges further that Mr.
Burleson, "has ruthlessly invaded the rights of employees and has interfered, in defiance of law, with the proper functioning of their organizations," and has refused to recognize labor's accredited representatives. Mr. Burleson's labor policy has been "fastened upon every governmental agency under his supervision," the resolution says, "in utter defiance of the wishes of the people and in complete opposition to the expressed words of President Wilson."

After declaring also that "Burleson's archaic and autocratic attitude has resulted in demoralized service and confused and choked industrial processes,"
the memorial continues:

"Resolved that the American Federation of Labor in convention assembled, speaking directly for 4,000,000 organized wage earners and firm in the belief that this reflects the sentiment of the vast majority of the American people, request President Wilson immediately to remove postmaster General Burleson from office."

POLICE SEARCHING FOR MISSING COUPLE

PORTLAND, Me., June 18.—Massalatter part of last week and was believed to have been the missing Burkers, sought in connection with the Chapman murder at Westboro, Mass., went to that city.

A note was found by the police in a trunk which they left behind, which reads: "Dear Sweetie: Don't lose your nerve. Get to Bangor somehow. I will meet you there."

Whether this was left to mislead the police was uncertain, but it was learned that the young woman had inquired regarding the Boston bound trains and carried a Boston & Maine ticket when she left the island Saturday afternoon.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Declaring
opponents of the League of Nations

presentation and distortion, Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, a republican member of the foreign relations

more terrible wars.

"In 20 years of service in the sen-

"I have known but one instrument
whose terms have been so willfully
misinterpreted and so grossly misrepresented as the covenant of the League know and some portions objectionable from particular viewpoints, but that it discriminates against us, is unfair, in its treatment of our country or that it imposes on us any obligation or bur-

VOTE ON PROPOSAL TO MODIFY PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The house judiciary committee agreed today to vote Saturday on a proposal by Representative Gard, democrat, Ohio, which would authorize the president by pro-

TO INVESTIGATE THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM

BOSTON, June 18.—Governor Coolidge today appointed a commission of three to investigate the judicial system of the state and to ascertain whether it is possible to "insure a more prompt economical and just despatch of judicial business." The commission, which was authorized by the present legislature, will be composed of H. N. Shel-court; Roscoe Pound, dean of Harvard law school, and John W. Cummings of Fall River, a lawyer.

STEAMER ARRIVES WITH FIRE IN FORWARD HOLD

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 18.—The Fabre Line steamship Britannia arrived here from New York today with a fire in her forward hold. The vessel came here to take on 800 passengers for the Azores and Italian and French ports.
Captain Vidal sent a wireless message to the harbor master here early today asking for assistance. Tugs were sent down the bay and brought the Britannia into her dock. The city fire department extinguished the fire which was confined entirely to sugar in the forward hold.

HEARINGS ON NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Hearings on the annual naval appropriation bill were begun today by the senate naval committee with naval officials prepared to renew their arguments for increased appropriations for naval aviation operations and other activities. Rear Admiral McKean, acting chief of operations, declared that unless an increased personnel were authorized radical changes in the department's plans for peace time organization of the fleet would be necessary.

"The department has planned," he said, to keep 29 battleships in full commission, 25 cruisers, 142 destroyers, 130 submarines, 12 gunboats, 51 minesweepers, 20 sub-chasers and 100 miscellaneous craft. Approximately 100, 000 men would be needed to man these ships alone.

HUN FLAG DEAD RED ONE NEXT

Cong. Rogers Flays U. S. Soviets at No. Chelmsford—
Asks Boys To Fight Curse

F. Sibley, Editor Chappell and Col. Herbert Wain of Socialism's Menace

Congressman John Jacob Rogers speaking to an audience of 2,000 persons on North Chelmsford common yesterday afternoon in connection with medal presentation exercises for returned service men and nurses aroused the former soldiers and town's men and women to a high pitch of enthusiasm when he declared—

"The German flag used to be partly black and soon after the war started we began to believe it was all black—the black flag of pirates. Well, our American boys went in and finished the job of killing that black flag. But, as soon as it was finished that it looks as if we were to be confronted with the job of killing another flag. I mean the red flag of socialism. It menaces us at the present time and I am sure this important job of putting the red flag in the dust and keeping it there cannot be assigned to hands more capable than those of the boys of whom the town of Chelmsford has such a splendid representation."

The audience was disappointed at the non-appearance of Lieut. Gov. Channing Cox and Col. Edward L. Logan of the 101st Regiment and added to this was the aerial threat that June showers might descend at any moment.

The Chelmsford folk had good patience, however, and the few stray drops did not dampen the enthusiasm of the patriotic audience.

The exercises, participated in by people from Chelmsford Centre as well as the North village, commenced at 2.30 p.m. The presiding officer was Justin L. Moore, chairman of the board of selectmen. Musical numbers were given by the Waltham Varsity company's band. The first speaker of the afternoon was Congressman Rogers, who said in part:

Cong. Rogers' Address

"You are to be congratulated on the success of the program you are giving this day in Chelmsford. Most of all, you are to be congratulated that your soldiers and sailors are back among you safe home again. We broke all records getting men to Europe and we are breaking all records getting them back again. We must break records and we must get them back again as fast as we possibly can. These are the happiest days we shall know and they mark the end of the greatest achievement any country has ever worked. These days mark the majestic be-

The Dessert That Saved Betty's Party

"Betty wants me to give a party for her on her sixth birthday next week," sighed Mrs. Ford, "and I just dread to think about it."

"I know just how you feel," sympathized her neighbor.

"It is so hard," she continued, "to know what to have for refreshments that won't hurt them. Custards are no treat for them, my cornstarch puddings are always thin and lumpy, and ice cream is so expensive."

"Have you thought about having Pudding?" questioned her neighbor. "My children love it, and it's so pure and wholesome."

"What is Pudding?"

"It makes a wonderful creamy mold of dessert. Costs 15c a box, and one box of Pudding serves 15 people."

"Is it hard to make?"

"That's the nice part about Pudding," replied her neighbor, enthusiastically. "It always turns out right, and it is not a bit of trouble to make. All you need do is to add milk, either fresh or condensed, and sugar, and boil for three minutes. Pour it into a mold and after it has cooled, you have a firm, smooth mold of delicious dessert—chocolate, rose, vanilla, orange, lemon—in fact, whatever you like best, for Pudding comes in a number of flavors."

"I've a mind to try it, and let Betty have her party after all," said Mrs. Ford.

"As a matter of fact," suggested her friend, "you could have some home-made ice cream. Pudding makes ice cream as smooth as velvet. And, not only that, but for cakes and pies, Pudding makes a wonderful filling."

Some time later the two friends met. "I've been waiting to call you up," exclaimed Mrs. Ford. "Pudding is wonderful. I had the party for Betty, and I don't know when I have seen children enjoy anything as much as they did that Pudding. I had enough left over for supper that night, and Henry said he had never tasted such delicious dessert."

gining of a new era. These returned service men are to step forward with us as we face this new era and help us deal with the new problems with which we shall be confronted. We've been dealing with a pirate flag and now we're face to face with the red flag and things for which it stands. We are face to face with the unutterable thing that crowd in Lawrence expressed when it paraded the streets of that city with signs asserting, "No God, No Country." No one will be able to cope with this thing as well as the returned soldier. I haven't been able to feel very sorry when I read of some socialist meeting being broken up by returned service men, as was the case in Cleveland.

"I am not an admirer of a pirate, whether it be Capt. Kidd himself or his later descendants, but I admire the quality of efficiency in piracy—it is an efficiency that Bolshevism is unable to boast. We know what Bolshevism has produced in Petrograd. She has a pestilence worse than any the Dark Ages produced. Bolshevism has been on trial there over a year.

"We must pick out the Bolshevists among us. Not only must we kick those out we have here, but prevent more from coming in. The most strict measures for restricting immigration are called for. If you do not do your duty in this respect, the time will come when America will no longer be a liberty-loving nation."

Frank Sibley's Address

Frank Sibley, who represented a Boston newspaper with the 26th Division overseas, was the next speaker and his knowledge of war affairs and his earnestness in his subject impressed the audience. He described what was evidently a personal grievance shared with many other overseas newspapermen in regard to the unnecessary strict censorship and did not hesitate to point out the illegal injustices and moral political intrigues carried on in the war zone by regular army officers; he alluded to them as the West Point and Leavenworth clique.

"I am afraid," said the speaker, "that Bolshevism is more of a danger in our country at the present time than any of you realize. We need to have constantly before us as Americans, an ideal of service for our country. None of us has any right to say 'my country' unless he has done something for it. It appears that shortly we are to have the great suffrage question acceptably answered and we shall see the time has come when the girl of this country can take her place beside the boy as one who can do something for the country. The opportunity for the service of women in this country in war or peace time is very nearly equal to that of men and this war has been one of the things to demonstrate it."

Awarding of Medals

After Mr. Sibley's address it was announced that a medal of honor would be presented to each service man present or relatives might come forward and receive the medal in the absence of the recipient to whom the town of Chelmsford awards the medals as a token of gratefulness. The service men were lined up in front of the speakers' stand, soldiers, sailors and a marine officer. A group of high school girls received the medals from the hand of Selectman William E. Belleville who read off the names from the roll of honor printed in the official program. It was an impressive ceremony as the next speaker, Editor Joe Mitchell Chappell of the National Magazine, mentioned in his stirring war address.

The names of the town's war nurses were read off and they, too, will receive medals. None of them was able to attend the exercises yesterday. These names have not previously been printed. They are: Ella M. Burns, Elizabeth C. Devine, Olive G. Eaton, Frances M. Harrington, Marian L. Hawley and Mabel E. Swanson. The girls who pinned the medals on the service men yesterday were: Beatrice Brown, Ida Paigson, Elinor L. Warren, Ethel Tetley, Mollie Lofsted and Esther Fox. One side of the medal bears the inscription, "Presented by the Town of Chelmsford in cheerful recognition of patriotic service rendered in the world war, 1917-1919." The reverse has the words, "World War Service." There is an eagle in the center and below it the seal of the town of Chelmsford.

Editor Chappell's Address

"I am one of the men who still insist that the time to have struck against Germany and struck as hard as we could, was when her U-boat sank the Lusitania. I remember going to the home of Elbert Hubbard's mother at East Aurora the last time he ever saw her, prior to his sailing for Europe on the Lusitania.

"He said to the little old lady whom we had roused up at night, 'Mother, it has occurred to me that although living here in East Aurora with you 21 years I have never come over to kiss you good night and now tonight I have come to do it.' The old mother clasped the man to her and in her joy she cried aloud, 'It is my own baby come back, my own baby come back.' He was one of the Lusitania victims along with over a hundred other Americans who lie buried at that sacred spot near Queenstown, Ireland."

Mr. Chappell described his visit to the grave of Quentin Roosevelt in northern France and of an account of it he sent to Col. Roosevelt and of the colonel's expressed wish that the body of his beloved son should not be taken away from the country for which he had given his life.

Col. Herbert's Address

The afternoon was nearly gone and the band had started its last numbers when Col. J. F. J. Herbert of Worcester, colonel of the 102nd M.A. arrived, having been delayed by tire trouble and losing his way. A Lowell newspaper friend saw him coming and notified the chairman of the exercises who immediately got busy and held the audience together.

Col. Herbert said, "I regret exceedingly my late arrival here. I think I tried a route from Worcester that if followed through, would have landed me just short of San Francisco. It is good to be among you, my comrades. I wonder if you have found, as I have found on coming back, a somewhat different air among the home folks. They are wondering where we stand and what we propose to do. They want to know where the American soldier stands. I will tell you where he stands I think on one subject.

"The war served to shake out our American flag to such an extent that it shook down some of the reptiles we found had been sheltered in its folds. These have to be gotten rid of. The St. Louis convention named some of them. I am here to tell you that the I.W.W., the international socialists, the anarchists, the slackers, and the conscientious objector have got to be made to walk the plank, and the returned soldiers are the ones most fitted to help do the job. If the interned alien was dangerous while the war was on, he may be just as dangerous to set free now that it is over. The spark of Russian Bolshevism is among us, too, but it isn't wearing its Russian garb. It too, must be stamped out before it burns us up. Certain persons have claimed the returned soldier would represent an element of discontent but I assert that if this be so, he will represent constructive discontent and constructive discontent spells progress."

The day's program closed with dances for the service men and their friends held at both North Chelmsford and the Center. Each village also enjoyed a fine band concert and there was a community sing at North Chelmsford under the direction of Albert Edmund Brown.

He pleaded that the Turkish people were not to blame for the war. He urged that the empire be permitted to remain intact in both Europe and Asia. He promised to submit a memorandum to the council on Friday.

Premier Clemenceau, as president of the conference, stated that upon receipt of this memorandum the council would make reply.

The meeting, which was a secret one, lasted an hour. At its close the Turkish representatives returned to Vaucluse under escort.

The enemy status of the mission was erie, scoring still another honor for local Eaglesdom.

Sixty-eight aeries were represented at the convention with a total delegation of 355. The Lowell delegates, not including State President Flanagan, were as follows: David J. Hackett, John M. Hogan, Martin J. Crowe and Richard J. Flynn.

At the banquet held Monday evening in connection with the convention there was some good speech making in which the purpose, progress and success of the order were outlined by speakers familiar with every detail of the organization. Those present at the banquet and assisting in the entertainment included Commissioner James E. Donnelly and Thomas Quinn of this city.

TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE

Union Head Says 17,000 Out
—Company Officials Regard Strike at End

CHICAGO, June 18.—Officials of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, members of which entered upon a nation-wide strike one week ago, expect a decision today on the attitude the American Federation of Labor is to take toward their trouble with the telegraph companies.

President S. J. Konekamp, who is conducting the strike said additions to the ranks of the strikers were being daily reported from various points, and he estimated that 17,000 keymen were out.

Officials of the Western Union and Postal companies said their business was being conducted without any appreciable trouble and that they regarded the strike as practically at an end.

ADM. SIMS SPEAKS AT YALE COMMENCEMENT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 18.—Thirteen honorary degrees and 595 degrees for work in course, were awarded at the 215th commencement of Yale university today.

Recipients of honorary degrees included Rear Admiral William S. Sims, who during the war, commanded the American naval forces in European waters, and Gen. William Josiah Snow, chief of field artillery, U.S.A., who were given degrees of doctor of laws. A similar honorary degree was conferred upon George Wakeman Wheeler, chief justice-elect of the supreme court of Connecticut.

Other honorary degrees were as follows: Doctors of science: Harvey Cushing, professor of surgery, Harvard university; Samuel Wesley Stratton, physicist director of national bureau of standards.

Doctor of divinity: Charles Henry Brent, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church and chaplain general of the American Expeditionary Force; Orville A. Petty, divisional chaplain, A.E.F., and pastor of Plymouth church of this city.

Master of arms: Orville Wright, inventor and aviator; Sanford Hosea Adhams, colonel medical corps, A.E.F.; Russell Cornell Leffingwell, assistant secretary of the treasury; Charles Albert Coffin, chairman board of directors, General Electric company; Robert Stewart McClenahan, formerly resident of Assini college, who is now planning a new university at Cairo; Jean Julien Demondant, French soldier and painter, blinded in war.

any Admiral Sims
"This war has shown that the commissioned personnel of navies in general are not well trained in the practice of the principles of warfare, however skillful and efficient they may be," other respects," said Rear Admiral Sims, who is president of the Naval War college, in an address. He urged an "imperative necessity of naval war colleges on a better and larger scale."

because of the rapidly changing conditions of war on the sea.
"Our strategic and tactical objectives," he continued, "are the same as they have always been since the earliest days of organized naval operations, that is to strike the enemy with a force superior to that with which he can oppose us at the point of contact. The problem differs in no essential respect from that of Nelson's time. The only difference is that the conditions have become much more complicated, the weapons more destructive and the element of time is vastly more important."

"Under present conditions fleets will open fire at 10 miles or more. The guns may totally destroy a great ship with a single lucky shot. Scores of rapid destroyers will launch torpedoes that have a range of over five miles; aeroplanes will launch similar torpedoes. Other planes will drop bombs of great size, weighing 3000 pounds and still others will control by wireless super-torpedoes, carrying an explosive charge of over one ton. Fleet submarines may be present in great numbers, and many automatic mines may be laid in front of the fleets."

"With both commanders determined to fight a decisive action, the issue will be decided in a very short time, and the result will be the practical destruction of the defeated fleet."

"Our problem is to devise means of applying our practical experience of these instruments of destruction in accordance with the immutable principles of warfare. This will require continuous study. Hence the absolute necessity of a naval war college of as great a capacity as practicable. And in view of the rapidly augmenting power of naval vessels and the increasing number and power of our weapons, not to mention the fundamental qualities of new weapons now in process of development, such a college is more urgently needed now than ever before."

"For no matter how powerful may be our vessels, or how mechanically efficient our various weapons, they will not constitute an efficient naval force unless they are controlled and directed by a personnel so trained and indoctrinated in time of peace that this great force may be handled in battle on sound principles and with a skill at least equal to that of our possible enemies."

ALCOCK AND BROWN ARE HONORED IN LONDON

LONDON, June 18.—London paid tribute yesterday to Capt. John Alcock and Lieut. A. W. Brown during a formal procession in honor of the two aviators who completed Sunday the first nonstop transatlantic aerial flight.

The aviators were carried on soldiers' shoulders from the Euston railway station to automobiles. Miss Margaret Kennedy, Lieut. Brown's fiancée and her father met him on his way from Dublin and accompanied him here.

The parade and demonstration, as arranged, was the safe as were given for Harry G. Hawker and Lieut. Commander Mackenzie Grieve, but excitement over yesterday's event was less marked.

The parade proceeded from the station through great crowds lining Portland and Regent streets, two of the widest of London's thoroughfares. Flags were flown from buildings along the line of march and were waved by women and children.

A band led the way, playing "See the Conquering Hero Comes" and "Rule Britannia." Officers of the Royal Air force and members of the Aero club rode in flag-draped automobiles. A feature of the celebration was an aerial escort, which accompanied into London the train bearing the two aviators. At the station a large group of generals and other officers, in uniform and wearing their decorations, also numerous persons of prominence, were waiting to greet the two men.

Large as were the crowds in the demonstration, they would have been greater but for the counter attraction, the opening of the season at the Ascot race track.

Americans Start Home

BRISTOL, June 18.—The American transport Zepplin sailed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the United States, with Commander John H. Towers, head of the American naval airplane expedition which recently made the record transatlantic flight, on board. Together with Lieut. Commander Albert C. Read, who successfully piloted the NC-4 across on the trip. With them also were Lieut. Commanders Little and Richardson, members of the NC crews.

The naval aviators received a great send-off. French hydroplanes and other types of aircraft hovered overhead, performing gymnastic feats and accompanying the transport to the outer roads. Rockets were fired and many lights displayed.

The aircraft parted from the Zepplin off the Irish coast. The transport Zepplin left here soon after the Zepplin. The two ships are carrying 10,000 troops of the 7th division and the service of supply.

PLAN TO HELP MEET STREET CAR TIE-UP

Editor Sun:
The trolley strike reaching a situation where it may be evident that the Bay State street railway does not intend to attempt to run its cars with non-union help and where the strike may be said to be in progress without the approval of the parent body of car men, the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway Employees of America, I write, as a reader of your esteemed paper, to ask the privilege to suggest a plan I believe the merchants of the city should adopt behind in order to relieve the bad business situation that is bound to exist in a city like Lowell where a substantial part of the transportation facilities renders it very difficult for thousands of people to come down town to secure the necessities of life. I believe the merchants should hire or enlist a sufficient number of "jitneys" automobiles, so called, so that at least an hourly service could be maintained in all parts of the city on the streets on which the electric cars usually run. I believe the merchants should hire autos. If necessary, use the owners' trucks and ask the business people and public spirited citizens to loan the use of their cars for this purpose. By this means thousands of women who have the care of families

TUMULTUOUS SESSION

Mutiny of French Sailors Discussed by Deputies—Vote of Confidence

PARIS, June 17.—Confidence in the government was voted in the chamber of deputies today, 319 to 187, following a tumultuous session during which the mutiny of the sailors of the Black Sea fleet was discussed.

Closing the debate for the government, M. Pichon, foreign minister, declared the trouble was due entirely to Bolshevik propaganda and said the chamber "must decide between the democratic inter-allied policy and the policy of the socialists, who want France to abdicate before the Bolsheviks."

The minister provoked a violent outburst from the socialists by declaring that, in his opinion, Bolshevism was lost.

Julius Delahaye, a royalist deputy, created a violent scene by declaring that foreign money was being used for propaganda work in France and that the socialist party had assumed the task of circulating it in the navy, notably at Odessa and Sebastopol. The socialists demanded that the government make a declaration on the subject, but M. Pichon said he had no knowledge of it.

FIGHTERS HONORED BY FELLOW EMPLOYEES

The fighting sons of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. recently returned from over there, were given a royal good time at the Harrisonia hotel by their fellow employees last evening. A splendid dinner was the first number of the evening's program, and this was followed by an entertainment which included some of the city's best amateur talent. E. C. Hart acted as toastmaster, and filled the position with his usual ease and grace.

J. A. Hunnewell, manager of the plant, made the address of welcome. Too much honor could not be given to the boys who were willing to leave good positions in civilian life to follow the colors so that true democracy might endure, he said.

Following the banquet brief addresses were made by Caleb F. Rogers, Jas. J. Sheehan and Frank Harmon. The entertainment program included solo numbers by Miss Blanche McKay, accompanied by Miss Rita Bernard; novelty songs by John W. Clark and William Ryan; banjo and mandolin duo by Miss Evelyn M. Lee and Clark P. Spellman; and readings by Miss Gladys L. Dodge. W. Ernest Mountain was the director of the "sing" which closed the program, and brought out a volume of harmony from the fully 100 guests present.

The hall had been appropriately decorated for the occasion with potted plants, flowers and ferns, with the national colors forming a fitting background.

Leon F. Seekins was chairman of the committee of arrangements. The other members were: Raymond G. Custer, Gladys L. Dodge, Evelyn A. Wilson, Marion L. Davis, Gertrude A. Leggat, Clark P. Spellman, Blanche Gosselin, George E. French and Marie Richardson.

VISCOUNT NORTHCLIFFE

UNDER KNIFE

LONDON, June 18.—Viscount Northcliffe, newspaper owner and former head of the British mission to the United States, underwent an operation today. A bulletin issued by his physician says that the viscount's condition is satisfactory.

The operation was to remove a deep seated adenoma (an increase of fibrous tissue) of the thyroid gland, which was causing considerable pressure.

LOWELL DRUGGISTS ATTEND CONVENTION

A large delegation of Lowell druggists journeyed to the Hub today to attend the 35th annual convention of the Massachusetts State Pharmaceutical association, which is being held this year at the College of Pharmacy, Boston. The convention opened yesterday afternoon and will last three days. Several talented speakers addressed today's session, including Dean Bradley of the College of Pharmacy, Prof. Copeland of Harvard university and Eugene C. Brookmeyer of Washington.

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two thorough washings will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.

SCHOOL BIDS ARE HIGH

Bids Submitted For Morey

School Addition Are in Excess of $300,000

Commissioner George E. Marchant of the public property department and Chairman Richard Brabrook Walsh, of the school committee held a conference with Mayor Perry D. Thompson at the latter's office in city hall this noon relative to the unusual situation brought about by the unexpectedly high figures submitted by bidders for the construction of the Morey school addition.

The bids as submitted bring the cost of the addition to more than $300,000, whereas the original estimate was $150,000. Chairman Walsh was of the opinion that the plan to build 15 rooms should not be changed as they would be needed in the near future. Mayor Thompson said that he hoped to have figures on hand in a day or two showing where schools in other cities have been built at a much lower price than that estimate for the local structure.

"DOMINION OF IRELAND"

Things Moving That Way, Says Plunkett—Organization To Oppose Republic

LONDON, June 18.—A Dublin despatch to the Daily Mail says that Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Irish convention, in speaking of a recent remark by Viscount Northcliffe in which the latter referred to the "future dominion of Ireland" said: "I believe things are moving that way. Of this we shall know more in a fortnight hence."

Oppose Republic

DUBLIN, June 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—An influential organization is being formed in Ireland under the name of "The Irish Dominion League." It is composed of men who believe that an Irish republic is untenable and undesirable, but think that a prompt measure of home rule on the fullest colonial lines is urgently necessary.

Among the promoters of the league are Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Irish convention, and many men who were associated with him in the convention, as well as representatives of important business and professional interests.

The proposals mark a large advance on the provisions of the 1914 home rule act, or the two previous home rule bills, and their promotion by men of position is regarded as significant

of the growth of home rule opinion

and the urgency of a settlement.

A weekly paper in the interest of the league is to be published. It will be known as "The Irish Statesman." The directors include Sir Horace Plunkett, William Butler Yeats and T. P. O'Connor. The contributors, it is announced, will include some of the most distinguished of the workers for Ireland.

LOWELL FOURTH OF JULY PLANS DEVELOPING

Lowell's plans for the Fourth of July are progressing rapidly and the latest development is a telegram received this morning by Mayor Thompson from Joseph Perkins, secretary of the chamber of commerce of America, Ga., assuring him that that city would do its part to make the sale of cotton thread by airplane from America to Lowell a success.

Mr. Perkins said that the bale would weigh 400 pounds. Upon its arrival here it will be manufactured into cloth with the imprint of the U. S. air service by the Merrimack Mfg. Co., and it is hoped to make the project a big feature of the holiday's celebration.

Other phases of the celebration are also developing rapidly. Invitations have been sent out to practically every local organization to take part in the parade and it is hoped to have 2000 world war veterans in uniform participate. Prominent state officials have also been invited to come to Lowell for the Fourth.

NATURALIZATION PAPERS

Fifty applicants for naturalization papers called at the court house in Gorham street this forenoon and filed applications for first papers with Clerk Dillingham of the superior court. Between 30 and 40 others received their second papers at this afternoon's session.

C. E. Holton at Cavendish, Vt., is alive after receiving a shock from an electric wire carrying 4,500 volts. It is believed that the only thing that saved his life was the fact that his shoes did not fit and he had previously placed several thicknesses of paper underneath his feet and in front of his toes, making a non-conductor.

to the terms. It is said by those familiar with the changes in the treaty that the German leaders can, if they wish, make it appear they had gained concessions by negotiation.

Troops Ready to Advance

In the meantime, Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies, has issued orders that preparations be made for an advance eastward from the Rhine bridgeheads as soon as the Germans refuse to meet the allied terms, if that action should be taken. American forces are all ready and if the occasion should require, can start on short notice in battle formation toward the interior of Germany.

Council of Five Marks Time

With President Wilson in Belgium and Premier Lloyd George at Verdun today and tomorrow, the council of five will mark time. The only conference body in session today, was the council of foreign ministers. Final consideration of the Austrian terms is planned for Friday and it is believed that the Austrians will receive the full text of the terms on Saturday.

Austrian Reply

The Austrian reply to the fragmentary treaty submitted at St. Germain has been handed to the peace conference, and is being translated for submission to the council of five. Nothing as to its nature has been made public at Paris, but Vienna despatches say that newspapers there are publishing a summary of the reply, which seems to consist largely of objections to the territorial clauses of the treaty.

CALL PEACE TERMS "GREATEST CRIME"

BERLIN, Tuesday, June 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—In concluding a violent denunciation of the treatment given Germany by the allies, the Vorwarts says:

"If the entente's covering note describes the war as the greatest crime against humanity, it is certain there is yet another and greater crime against humanity. That is this so-called peace."

NO STATEMENT FROM CABINET

WEIMAR, Tuesday, June 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—No statement has been issued by the German cabinet on the allied reply to the German counter proposals, but the Associated Press learns that sentiment in the cabinet is almost unanimously against signing the treaty, the only objection being the possibility of Bolshevism and chaos in Germany.

The cabinet met at noon and continued its session until late in the day. The peace commission began deliberating on the entente answer at 6 o'clock tonight. Official circles here were weary since a large number of the cabinet members and other dignitaries stayed up all last night to read the allied terms. Indignation is said to be increasing in Weimar.

NO DECISION BY BIG FOUR TODAY

PARIS, Tuesday, June 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—No decisions were reached at today's sessions of the council of four and all reserved subjects were put over until Friday, when it is hoped that final disposition will be made of them. The missing clauses of the Austrian treaty may be delivered to Dr. Karl Renner, head of the Austrian mission, on Saturday.

SAYS GERMANY CANNOT REFUSE

BERLIN, Tuesday, June 17.—Compensating on the allied reply to the German counter proposals to the terms of peace, the Frankfort Gazette says: "Whatever we do will be terrible. Germany is in no position to refuse to sign the treaty, when the signature is forced by the inevitable and hope for a better future."

TURKS FAVORABLE TO FRANCE

PARIS, Tuesday, June 17.—Three of the Turkish delegates who appeared today before the Council of Ten are said to be friendly to France, while Tewfik Pasha, former Turkish ambassador in London, who has not yet arrived, is reported to be an Anglophile. Apparently there is considerable rivalry between England and France in gaining the good will of Turkey, but the French high commissioner in Constantinople scores by giving the sultan the first news that the conference had consented to hear the Turkish delegates and provided a French warship to bring the Ottoman representatives from Constantinople to Marseilles.

PROTEST FROM AUSTRIAN ENVOY

PARIS, Tuesday, June 17.—Vienna newspapers, according to despatches reaching this city by way of Basle, print despatches from St. Germain stating that Dr. Karl Renner, head of the Austrian peace mission, in his note to the peace conference protests against the detachment of territory from German Austria.

Dr. Renner said that the incorporation of territory of German-Austria in the Czechoslovak state is in contradiction to the principles proclaimed by the allies themselves, and he points out, the despatches say, that the German-Austrian state and the organization of the provinces was affected on the principle that the sovereign will of the people is the creative force of a state.

Complaint is made that German states near the Alps would be deprived of defense and means of existence, their most important industries and most indispensable natural products being taken from them.

W. A. KIERSTEAD, Manager

Lowell, Tel. 5790

Germany and armed intervention by the allies is regarded as inevitable, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Politiken. It is reported that Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the head of the peace delegation and Matthias Erzberger, chairman of the armistice commission, have reconciled their differences. The correspondent says if the report is true, the reconciliation will have an important bearing on the acceptance or non-acceptance of the terms.

The Socialist Vorwaerts of Berlin says it expects a reopening of hostilities as soon as the seven days given Germany to make a reply have expired.

The Fremdenblatt of Hamburg says it learns that the allies terms have caused great excitement in eastern Germany, where the population is ready to re-open the fight.

TROOPS READY TO MOVE ON

COBLENZ, Tuesday, June 17 (By the Associated Press.)—The concentration of troops preparatory to advancing further into Germany if the Germans refuse to sign the terms of peace will begin on Wednesday throughout all the occupied area. Orders to this effect were received today from Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies, who sent similar orders to all allied forces on German soil.

Gen. Hunter Liggett, commander of American forces in the Coblenz area, said today, after an inspection trip of the bridgehead outpost and the headquarters of divisions along the Rhine, that the American forces were all ready to move ahead at a moment's notice. Leaves to soldiers permitting them to visit recreation points within the American zone have all been suspended until it is known whether the Germans will accept or reject the peace conditions. If orders come to go ahead, the Americans will advance in combat formation prepared for any emergency, with the artillery and supply trains following close upon the heels of the infantry.

When the train arrived at the Quatre Leopold station here, a regiment of infantry, with a band, rendered military honors. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson went with the king and queen to the Brussels palace close by, passing the American legation en route. After the usual presentation of court dignitaries, the king and queen accompanied them to the palace, which will be President Wilson's residence during his stay in the city.

Thursday's program includes a morning visit to several devastated industrial districts, a luncheon at the American legation, and a reception by the American colony. At 2:30 o'clock there will be a reception for Mr. Wilson in the house of parliament. Mr. Wilson's speech will be translated into French by Grand Whitlock, the American minister. From the parliament building the party will return to the royal palace where Mr. Wilson will receive the diplomatic corps. Then will follow visits to Louvain and Mechlin and the presentation of Cardinal Mercier. At 6 o'clock, there will be a reception in the Brussels city hall, followed by a gala dinner at the royal palace. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will return to Paris Friday morning.

The countess was alleged to have incited tradesmen to boycott the police and to have participated in an unlawful assembly at Cork.

Countess Markievicz was arrested at Dublin last Friday and taken to Cork. She was released from prison early this year after having been interned in May, 1918.

WASHINGTON CLUB HAS*ANNUAL OUTING

The annual outing of the Washington club was the magnet which attracted some 60 or 70 members of that popular organization to the Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro today and, despite the overcast sky, the affair was just as enjoyable and "peppery" as any of the previous outings of the club.

About noon a dozen automobiles rolled up to the club's quarters in Prescott street and took aboard their cargo of picnickers, blissfully undisturbed by the absence of Bay State trolleys. The trip to the beautiful grounds in Tyngsboro was made in quick order and the first number on the day's program was an excellent buffet luncheon served by William Hayward, steward of the club. Music and speechmaking of a happy character followed the repast and the afternoon was given over to a series of sporting events, the principal feature of which was a ball game between the married and single members of the club.

The transportation committee was headed by President Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan.

BROSNAN TO LEAD THE 1920 TEAM

John Brosnan, third baseman, today was elected captain of next year's Lowell high school baseball team. The choice was unanimous and came after a motion by Ray Reynolds, this year's leader, who, although returning to school for another year, nominated his team-mate for the honor. With the occurrence of the election also came the letter awards to the following players: Brosnan, Mahoney, Reynolds, O'Hare, Gleason, Anastos, Birkenhead, Ordway, Lawler, Cahill, Condon, Markham and Manager Mills. Coach Joseph P. Donahue, providing he serves in that capacity next year, and every effort will be made to again secure him, will have a fine nucleus to build on as only three men will be lost to the team through graduation. Mahoney, outfielder; Anastos, pitcher and Lawler, first baseman.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM FOR POSTMASTERSHIP

Three candidates for the position of postmaster for North Chelmsford, took the civil service examination that was held this morning at the local post-office. Among those who took the examination was James P. Dunnigan of North Chelmsford, who is now acting as postmaster, having been appointed to that position shortly after the death of Postmaster John F. McMenamin. The subjects for the examination were accountancy and arithmetic, letter writing and penmanship, business experience, education and fitness. It is believed it will be at least a month before the result of the examination is given out. Timothy J. Sullivan, a local mail carrier, was in charge of the examination, which opened at 10 o'clock this forenoon and was brought to a close at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The position carries a salary of between $1200 and $1800 per annum.

About 500 cutters are out today. Factories where the arbitration contracts are in force are in full operation as are a score of shops which have temporary agreement with the cutters pending a final settlement. The manufacturers hold to their original stand and admit no new developments since yesterday.

Eighteen hundred turn workmen will hold a mass meeting at 4 o'clock today to vote on a 45 hour week. All the crafts affiliated with the Shoe Workers' union will have voted on this question by Friday. No one is expected to work Saturday.

CITY CHAMPIONS*Edson Grammar School Team Given a Banquet

John Condon, the miracle man of Lowell amateur baseball and his Edson Grammar school team which has just won the school championship of the city for the eighth time in 11 years, were feted and honored by the teachers of the school yesterday afternoon. A banquet was held in the school building and the successful team and coach were toasted to the queen's taste.

Leo King, principal of the school, spoke, as did Coach Condon and Tom Cahill, captain of the club. The team went through the season with only one reverse out of nine games played, the one loss making a total of four during 11 years. Some record!

The arrangements for the banquet were in charge of Miss Marietta O'Neill and Miss Anna McCarron, while Miss Frances Webster assisted in serving. The makeup of the team follows: Thos. Cahill, shortstop and captain; Paul Smith, pitcher; Edward Carr, catcher; Jim Corretti, first base; Charles Usher, second base; Tom Culburn, third base; Thomas Flood, right field; Joseph Marie, centre field; Alphonso Mello, left field and Thomas Dignen, George Dugan and John Kenafick, substitutes.

Lowell is represented at the commencement exercises being held at Harvard university this week by two graduates, Ames Stevens and John M. Greene, 2d. Greene made an excellent scholastic record. The young men were graduated with degrees of A.B.

"BARGAINS FOR WOMEN WALKERS"

Mr. Merchant, you have a chance this week to advertise on an occasion you never expected would arise and if you had thought of it, you would have hoped, wouldn't arise. We mean the strike situation.

Now, why not devote part of your advertising space for special bargains that will cause thousands to walk to your store? Offer bargains and the people will reach you without cars.

The Sun is not allowing the car strike to impede it in its work and responsibility to this community. We are printing more papers than usual this week on account of a run of big news. All papers are being delivered promptly and no reader is neglected. It costs extra money to hire autos to do this, but here is an occasion where money cannot be considered. The papers must be delivered. Real bargains properly advertised will fill your store in spite of the strike. If 15,000 women will walk two miles to see a circus, of course some proportion of that number will walk to take advantage of your business offers. You've got to do the best you can while this strike is on and the best way to maintain your trade is to have a fetching ad in

Still the street car service is tied up and the people of Lowell and surrounding towns have to get along as best they can without the service which the state has undertaken to manage for the convenience of the public.

The Sun has always advocated arbitration as a means of settling disputes affecting public service utilities; but it appears that the parties to the controversy forgot all about the existence of an arbitration agreement for the settlement of such disputes.

The fact that the vice president of the international union, with which the local is affiliated, refuses to endorse the strike, proves at least that it is irregular. He bases his decision on the fact that the strike is in violation of an existing arbitration agreement which the international body must sustain if collective bargaining is not to be discredited so far as labor bodies are concerned.

Had the men now on strike followed orders under protest and used the gun registers on the open cars, they could have had the question arbitrated without interruption of the service; but apparently they were not willing so to submit their case.

On the other hand, had the company for the nonce waived its insistence upon running the open cars and using the gun register, it could have continued the service with the semi-convertible cars, which are just as good; and could then have brought the question before the arbitration board. In this way the issue might have been settled quietly and there would have been no interruption of the service.

We are free to say that wise management would have adopted this course. The company could have secured a decision from an arbitration board and also from the international union before overruling the protest of the men. It is doubtful if the men would have decided to strike had the company sought and obtained the aid of higher powers in enforcing the arbitration agreement.

It is plain that the interests of the public were ignored by both sides to the controversy, and for this reason, as we have repeatedly asserted, there is need for a law to protect the public against hot-headed action on one side and lack of sound judgment and foresight on the other, in both of which the present strike offers a good illustration.

LATIN AMERICAN TRADE

The important work of the second Pan American Commercial conference held at Washington early this month, will be emphasized and promoted by the visit to this country of Dr. Epitacio Pessoa, the new president-elect of Brazil, who is due to arrive in New York on June 20, after serving as president of the Brazilian delegation at the peace conference. He has been shown extraordinary honors in France, England and Italy, and should be honored to a greater extent in this country, as representing a sister American republic.

The recent conference was undoubtedly one of the most important ever held between the United States and the Latin American countries. These small nations are looking into the future with clear ideas of the important commercial changes that are at hand. They realize the abject conditions of trade in Europe and for that reason they look to the United States for the necessary co-operation and assistance in developing their natural and commercial resources. They seem to have more confidence in the United States at the present time than ever before; but it is a confidence based upon the hope that we will aid them in promoting industrial development and commercial enterprise.

This the United States is willing to do in a very liberal way. The financial and other interests of this country have cordially endorsed the movement for more intimate business relations with the southern republics. Such sentiments found expression at the recent conference from men well qualified to speak as representing great financial interests and industrial enterprises, men who could easily undertake and finance railroad and other schemes for the development of the South American countries.

The scope of the conference may be judged from the fact that the interests of each country in Latin America were discussed and the general policy of the United States was declared to be one of friendship and readiness to co-operate, so far as possible, with these countries in their endeavors to promote industry and commerce.

Among the subjects discussed were the establishment of ample freight, mail and passenger steamship facilities between the principal ports of the Atlantic, the Gulf and Pacific ports of the United States and the corresponding ports of Latin America; thorough reciprocity and mutual co-operation in commercial relations, including export and import combinations and other aids to commerce. Furthermore, it was laid down as a principle that the United States would meet the legitimate financial needs of the Latin American governments and, to a certain extent, of private undertakings by the establishment of financial institutions and better credit facilities than in the past.

One of the important items considered was the necessity of railroad and highway construction all over Latin America in order to reach regions rich in raw material that would find a ready sale in the United States. From such an earnest discussion of important trade and industrial relations, it would indeed be unfortunate if the opportunity thus offered for mutual benefit should not be fully utilized. Whether it will or not must depend upon the promptness and the cordiality with which the United States carries out the policies outlined at the Pan American conference.

The visit of the president-elect of Brazil to this country will undoubtedly mark the beginning of a more friendly and intimate relation between the United States and the southern republics. It is gratifying to know that no longer does any of the Latin republics harbor any jealousy or animosity towards the United States. They are now convinced that the United States is entirely unselfish in the effort to maintain the Monroe Doctrine as well as to establish the League of Nations with power to prevent war in Europe. If we do not cultivate the friendship of the Latin republics, they will naturally look to European nations for the assistance they failed to secure from the United States.

DISCREDITING WILSON

It is now in order of course for certain newspapers, chiefly of the republican stripe, to represent President Wilson as discredited because the newly organized nations of Europe are not tumbling over one another to apply his fourteen points.

If the president has put forth an idealism ahead of his time or for which the world is not fully prepared, that surely is not a fault for which he should be blamed. That so many of the great powers of Europe have made even a hollow pretence of accepting those fourteen points must be regarded as a triumph for world democracy.

It is true that few of the European powers seem willing to be definitely pinned down to such ideals. That was to be expected. Indeed, we believe that few of the European nations except France, England, Italy, Belgium and Switzerland are quite ready to apply any such principles of government as Wilson's fourteen points. Indeed, it is doubtful if any of the others can successfully adjust themselves to democratic government.

The peace treaty submitted to Austria provides for a constitution offering equal rights to all. It is doubtful if any such constitution can be successfully applied for the present in Austria. The change from imperialism is too rapid, too sweeping, too radical.

But if it be found that the peoples of the newly organized governments are not prepared for democratic rule, is that any fault of President Wilson or of the ideals he has laid down?

Certainly not. Nor should it reflect in the slightest upon him or his ideals if countries now adopting the republican form of government should find it a hopeless failure and be obliged to return to monarchy.

The success of a democracy presupposes a fair degree of intelligence on the part of the masses. If that intelligence be lacking, then a dictatorship or a return to monarchy will be a necessity.

But never again will the people be enslaved as they were before the war. President Wilson's ideals and his fourteen points will take root in European soil, and will finally blossom into an abundant fruition.

The result will not be seen perhaps in the immediate future; but eventually they will come in an aspiration among the nations, large and small, to move towards the American ideal of government.

It is the worst form of shallowness or wilful misrepresentation to reflect upon President Wilson as responsible for European conditions and to say that the president's mission has failed. He has secured a combination of the nations of the world for the prevention of future wars and for establishing international law on a basis that will hold the most powerful nations as well as the smallest amenable to an international tribunal for their acts of aggression or oppression practised upon other nations.

It is too soon to estimate the far-reaching results that will follow from the League of Nations and the principles on which it is based—principles that reflect President Wilson's endeavor to enforce international justice and inaugurate an era of universal peace that will prevent forever the periodical recurrence of devastating wars.

We surmise that when President Wilson returns, he will present these questions in a new light so as to clear away the clouds of confusion and doubt so assiduously diffused by republican and other agencies for the purpose of discrediting the president for political and other reasons.

Warfare of some sort evidently impends on our Mexican border. The people of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico are as much entitled to protection as though they were living four miles from New York. It is not compatible with the responsibility and dignity of the United States to permit Mexican outlaws to carry on their warfare in such a way that death carrying bullets will come across the border and harm United States citizens. Mexico is, after all, big enough for rebel quarrels to be carried on at a safe distance below the line.

The significant day approaches when we hope the people of the German nation will realize that the culmination of their troubles is the inevitable result of a nation believing she should live for herself alone, with her own interests paramount to the detriment of all other world interests, and at the expense of every good thing in the world if necessary.

The difference between Tennessee's great hero, Col. York, the "one man army," and the hero Alabama had about 20 years ago, seems to be that in hurrying home to his mountain girl and promptly marrying her, the erstwhile sergeant seems not likely to invite the ridicule of being an over-kissed hero.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

A young man I know who operates a touring car for pleasure had a rather peculiar experience during the past week in obtaining change from men who sell gasoline. One day he bought three gallons of gasoline and offered the proprietor a dollar in payment. He was handed back four dollars and some change. The next day he had occasion to buy gas again. This time he had a $5 bill, and the man handed him change for $10. He says if this thing keeps up he will quit work, arm himself with bills of small denominations and go out and make a living by swapping bills with owners of gas filling stations.

The 1918 edition of "Who's Who," the well known collection of biographies of the leaders of this country, has just made its appearance and is larger than ever. The entry of the United States into the world conflict necessitated the enlargement of the volume as it brought thousands of people into national prominence who would otherwise not have attained such heights. One of the rules of the editors of "Who's Who" is that certain military and naval ranks entitle their holders arbitrarily to a place in the book and with the great increase in the number of such officials during the war period, there naturally resulted a swelling of the red volume. I note among the thousands of names that of Congressman John Jacob Rogers of this city.

SEEN AND HEARD

For the bank clerks these days, a hit at 9 saves time.

The prevailing question: "Did you walk down this morning?"

Do the totem make all the noise they can in the morning, or do we just think so?

Every service man in line and in uniform is the aim of the July 4 parade officers.

At least, one doesn't have to worry about being hit by electric cars when crossing the street.

How do you like this period of almost holy calm and quiet which reigns over our fair city?

The strike gives the big-hearted automobile owner an excellent chance to show his selfishness. It also shows up the self-centered drivers.

Tom Jenks of Litten, Idaho, was born in a jail. He's some singer, is Tom, and they do tell there isn't a man in the whole of Idaho, begosh, who can put as much real sentiment in that old "Home, Sweet Home," song as can Tom Jenks. God bless Tom and make a good man of him!

At this stanza of the almanac the average gent gets green on his face. The green onion is the pole-oat of vegetables. If you leave 'em alone your word is good in any gathering. But if you get clubby with 'em, you get very unpopular with everybody within scolding distance. The jazz proverb is, "you made your bed of onions, now lie in it, alone!" It doesn't make any difference whether you eat one or 10. As they say in the classics, "the first stone through the window is superfluous." Bet after Eve munched the apple, the first bit of domestic break came when Adam inhaled a green onion!

Cruel Shopper

"Here's a fine cod," said the fishmonger admiringly, as he held up a large and flabby fish for his customer's inspection.

"Bum!" replied the lady, doubtfully. "How much is it?"

"Quarter a pound, ma'am," the fishmonger said, in the tones of one who is making a sacrifice.

The lady examined the fish more closely.

"It's not very fresh," she murmured, doubtfully.

"Oh, yes," ma'am! protested the seller. "It's a beautiful fish!"

"But it's quite flabby and soft."

"That's right," said the fishmonger, angrily, as he saw he had failed to make a sale. "Go on insulting it! It's dead and can't answer back!"

There are strange swans in France, according to Delacour, a French scientist, says Popular Science. By day they look like other swans; but at night they are lit up. How they do it no one knows. Delacour suggests that their light is merely the phosphorescence of fungi—the fungi being the tiny spores of mushrooms which have attached themselves to the swans' feathers as they rubbed against rotting tree trunks in the daytime. The luminosity of the mushroom spore is simply part of its business of living. Some of the food it eats is transformed into energy, which manifests itself in light. This appears in the presence of oxygen being connected with the fungus' breathing.

"Sure! I use 'TIZ' every time for any foot trouble."

No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "Tiz" is magical, acts right off. "Tiz" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "Tiz" and wear smaller shoes. Use "Tiz" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel.

Mary's Little Lamb

"Mary had a little lamb; its fleece was white as snow, and everywhere that Mary went the lamb was sure to go."

Every college graduate, of course, is familiar with this classic. It was a nice little thing in its day, but sounds a little tame at this writing. For instance, if we were to put the same thought into words today we would probably put it thus: Mary possessed a diminutive sheep, whose external covering was as devoid of color as the congealed aureous fluid which occasionally presents insurmountable barriers to railroad travel on the Sierras. And everywhere that Mary peregrinated the juvenile mutton was certain to get up and get right after her.

The Street Car Man

We sing of our gallant soldier lad, And the soldier who braves the foe. While tales are told of the knights of old.

In the days of their chivalry, The poets sang of the other ring Of the rustic who tills the land, But never a word is ever heard, In praise of the street car man.

Out of his bed in the early dawn, In the rain in the sleet and the snow, Ahead of the sun ere the day has begun,

Hungry he has to go, With his eye on track and his soul in a sack, With his mind on the air and the sand, He swallows a bun at the end of the run— That's the meal of the street car man.

He hears all the fussing and passing, gers cussing, He's blamed when the power goes down, When he says, "Forward, please!" the passengers freeze.

In their tracks with a grumble and frown, No Sunday for him, for his week never ends, His worries we don't understand; To stay on the job and take care of Is the lot of the street car man.

Stop and consider before you berate, I ask in humanity's name, I'm being a dion if he isn't on time There's a reason and he's not to blame.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 18.—Brown university today celebrated her victory commencement. An unusually large number of alumni returned for the exercises. First degrees were awarded to 145 students, of whom 84 were men and 61 were women. The 19 advanced degrees included A.M., 15; S.C.M., one, and Ph.D., three. Seven honorary degrees were awarded, bringing the total to 189. Honorary degrees were bestowed by President W. H. P. Faunce as follows: LL.D., Provost Marshal Gen. Enoch Herbert Crowder of Washington, Pres. Ernest Martin Hopkins of Dartmouth college, Secretary of Agriculture David Franklin Houston of Washington, Roscoe Pound, dean of the Harvard Law school, Cambridge. D.D.—Rev. Joseph Chandler Robbins, Brown '97, of Newton Centre, Mass.; Litt.D., Worthington Canney Ford of Cambridge, Mass. A.M.—Anthony Dyer, Brown '91, of Providence. At the commencement dinner following the exercises this morning Pres. Faunce announced that two gifts had been presented to the university amounting to $185,000. Edgar L. Marston of New York, has given $150,000 for the erection of a foreign language building and $10,000 as a fund for the maintenance of a fellowship at Brown for graduates of the University of Texas, and Jesse H. Metcalf of Providence has given $25,000 for the further endowment of the department of chemistry.

ROOT HOLDS CONGRESS EXCEEDED POWERS

NEW YORK, June 18.—Elitha Root declared that "congress exceeded its powers" in enacting the war-time prohibition law, and that "the collector of internal revenue holds the brewers of the United States in the hollow of his hand." In the course of his argument in the United States circuit court of appeals here yesterday against the government's appeal to set aside the temporary injunction granted a month ago by Federal Judges Hand and Mayer. The injunction restrains United States Dist. Atty. Gaffey and acting collector of internal revenue McElligott from prosecuting brewers or interfering with their production of 2.75 per cent beer.

"There are two clouds that hang over this action," said Mr. Root. "One is the penalty prescribed under the act of Nov. 21, 1918, which will break up and put an end to the brewing business, and the other the complication arising from the inordinance of the brewery business to the internal revenue law."

"The brewers," he went on, "are bound hand and foot under the law, even though they are engaged in the manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer. They are not alone subject to prosecution under the 'war-time measure,' but to concerted prosecution under the internal revenue law."

Wherein Congress Went Too Far
Mr. Root, as counsel for the United States Brewers' association, declared that "a business heretofore considered lawful and protected by the laws of the state and the United States is threatened with destruction."

"Hundreds of millions dollars' worth of property is involved," continued Mr. Root, "and if the law is enforced as threatened by the United States attorney general irreparable injury will be done before the possibility of a final hearing in the courts."

The former speaker said there was no occasion for enforcement of the act at this time, as no public interest is endangered by allowing the injunction to remain in force. Referring to President Wilson's recommendation on May 20 to lift the ban on the manufacture and sale of malt and vinous liquors, he said:

"The recommendation did not specify distilled liquors, but the president, as commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States and the person charged chiefly with the conduct of the war, stated that demobilization has so far progressed that he regarded it safe to resume the manufacture and sale of wine and beer."

Mr. Root said the complainants did not challenge the power of congress to call for the sacrifice of any and all property rights in defense of the nation, but said their business could not be sacrificed without compensation unless "necessary and proper," without the mandate and guaranty of the constitution.

He pointed out that the constitutionality of a statute is to be determined as of the time and in the light of circumstances existing when it is sought practically to enforce against the individual, and that a statute may be valid when passed, but have become invalid when it is attempted to be set in operation.

"When congress in November, 1918, passed a law governing matters regulated by the states alone and which should remain in force after the necessity for it no longer exists, then congress exceeded its powers," concluded Mr. Root.

Fits Sees Otherwise

Asst. Atty. Gen. Fitts, who followed Mr. Root, denied the right of the federal district court to enjoin the United States attorney from enforcing the criminal statutes of the United States.

"A great deal has been said here of the enormous size of the brewing industry and the hundreds of millions of dollars involved," said he. "Is that any golden calf to fall down before and worship? The question is, can any litigant come into a United States court of equity a day in advance, professing wealth and with learned counsel, and say: 'There is a criminal law I desire to offend against. I have got it in my wicked heart to do so. I want the equity court of the United States by solemn decree to advise me and I will go ahead and violate the law.' Such a right has never been granted to any litigant. If it were, what would become of our institutions?"

"This bill was passed as a war measure," continued Mr. Fitts, "to preserve the man power of the nation. Now that our men have gone to the front we are in duty bound to sustain them until the last man is back. This law runs, not only until peace is declared, but until the president by solemn proclamation shall declare that demobilization is complete."

Mr. Fitts said the constitutionality of the war-time prohibition act has been established by decision of the supreme court no longer than Monday a week ago.

No intimation has been given the court as to when the decision in the case should be expected, but counsel for both sides said it was hoped it would be rendered before July 1. It was said by both sides that no matter what the decision may be, it is likely that the case will be carried to the United States supreme court.

Dist. Atty. Caffey, on opening the case for the government, insisted that if he failed to prosecute under the statute he should be impeached rather than restrained.

The statute, according to Mr. Caffey, "created two new crimes and provided penalties." He also claimed it applied to all "beer," regardless of whether it was intoxicating or not.

The three presiding judges are Henry W. Rogers, Charles M. Hough and Henry G. Ward.

SEPTEMBER MORN ARRESTED IN JUNE

NEW YORK, June 18.—A lady bathing in a brook, a lady clad in nothing and very little of that, was the spectacle that caught the eye of Patrolman Jameson of the Nutley, N. J., police force last Saturday afternoon as he tramped along the hot and dusty road on his way to police headquarters. The brook was between Hillside and Franklin avenues, Nutley, near the Portmantly club, and had about a foot and a half of water in it, hardly enough to cover the nothing that the lady had on, let alone the lady.

The lady was standing up when Patrolman Jameson first saw her, but as soon as she saw him she sat down hurriedly and tried to hide behind a bit of weed, meanwhile unostentatiously splashing water over her toes.

"What are you doing there?" asked the policeman.

"Bathing," replied the lady.

"You come out of that and put your clothes on!" ordered Patrolman Jameson sternly. "You're disgracing yourself."

The lady said she wouldn't do it, and the policeman didn't know how to make her. So he telephoned for a patrol wagon, and it came presently with Reserve Patrolman Brown. But still the lady refused to put her clothes on, and the last appeared too much entirely for a couple of policemen. So they summoned various of the feminine populace of Nutley and these ladies formed a screen and helped the bathing lady on with her clothes, while the policemen studied astronomy.

Before Recorder Post the lady of the brook said she was Miss Marion Greyson, 23 years old, of Rome street, Newark, although the residents of that street say they know her not. The Recorder sent her to jail for ten days.

The Pictures Are Before You, CHOOSE!

"NAP-A-MINIT"

Used by Dr. Gagnon in His Superior PORCELAIN DENTISTRY

Take a good look at these pictures—they tell the story of two kinds of dentistry. The left hand picture is of a man being treated in the old harsh method employed to this day by many dentists. Note the rigid position of the patient as he sits upright, gripping the doctor's arm, hindering him in his work, and making his own pain necessarily greater. Every nerve in his body is on edge—every muscle tense—he is indeed the personification of fear and pain. This is dentistry as I do not do it.

Now turn to the picture on your right. Here you see restfulness and relaxation, a patient that feels no pain, yet is in control of every other sense. He can talk and hear and watch the doctor, unhindered, do his very best work. This is an example of dentistry as I do practice it.

This is what "Nap-a-Minit" has done for all my PATIENTS. "Nap-a-Minit" is a positive pain destroyer and absolutely eliminates all pain in dentistry. With its use, one may have teeth and roots extracted, nerves removed, cavities prepared and filled, crowns and bridge-work inserted and every conceivable kind of dental operation performed without the slightest fear or dread because it will not hurt.

Now that you have seen the two pictures and know the story that they tell, it is up to you to choose if you have dental work to be done. Will you have pain and harsh treatment or will you have "Nap-a-Minit" and no pain at my offices? There is little doubt about your answer and when you come here you will find the greatest service and value-giving dental offices in New England.

ENGLAND TO DEPORT ALL WAR ALIENS

LONDON, June 18.—In consequence of riots at Liverpool, Cardiff and elsewhere, in which colored men have participated, the British government has decided to repatriate at the earliest possible moment all aliens who came to England during the war, according to the Daily Mail. The bulk of these are Chinese, the others including Swedes, Danes and Norwegians.

Many negroes who are in England are British subjects and cannot be deported against their will, but an attempt will be made to induce them to go by offering free passage and money.

Thin People Should Take Phosphate

Nothing Like Plain Bifro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Power.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bifro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by A. W. Dows in Lowell and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerve cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bifro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

BICYCLIST HIT AND KILLED BY AUTO

Vincent Magellacio, aged 28 years, and residing at 37 Keene street, died last night at St. John's hospital as a result of an automobile accident, which occurred at about 10 o'clock near the corner of Central and Chapel streets. The automobile that figured in the accident is owned and was operated by John F. Sharkey, of 227 Concord street, who claimed that while he was driving his car through Central street, Magellacio, who was learning to ride a bicycle, rode right into the path of the machine and before the auto could be brought to a stop the young man was struck and run over.

The injured man was rushed to St. John's hospital in the ambulance. In the machine with Sharkey at the time of the accident was Edward L. Regan, of 282 Concord street. Magellacio has no known relatives in this city.

The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of M. H. McDonough Sons.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND
Retribution in swift and terrible form, which completes the triumph of love in "Two Women," the latest Anita Stewart picture, that will be shown for the last time at the Strand today. You can't afford to miss this really commendable picture. Miss Stewart is seen in one of her most congenial roles and Earle Williams is one of the supporting cast.

Louie Bonelson in "Sandy Burke of the U-Bar-B" is the other feature picture on the bill, and this too is a first-nighter. A great Viatican comedy and the latest Universal Weekly are also shown, and Miss Gertrude Brown, the soloist, is making many new friends each succeeding performance.

Tomorrow Theda Bara in "The Sinners Song" and Albert Bay and Ethel May in "Words and Music" will be shown for the first time locally. Don't forget that the Strand is always "cool and comfortable."

JOHN McCORMACK NOW U. S. CITIZEN

NEW YORK, June 18.—The night that he thrilled his first audience in California, the moment that he realized that his fame was world-wide is of slight consequence. John McCormack, the Irish tenor, declared yesterday upon becoming a citizen of the United States.

The ceremony which made him an American took place in the state supreme court. He was accompanied by several friends. It also happened to be his 35th birthday.

When the court congratulated him, the sad voice that made "Mother Macchree" a classic, replied: "My heart quivers a bit, and when he took the oath of allegiance his answer was: 'With it, I should say so—so help me God.'"

McCormack's ambition to become a citizen last St. Patrick's day suffered disappointment when he made application and learned three months more must elapse between declaration of intention, accompanied by presentation of first papers, and actual admission to citizenship.

Treasurer Christophel of Sacramento County, Calif., has received a letter from W. J. Hicks at Portland, Ore., asking forgiveness for not having paid a poll tax when he lived in California in 1897. Hicks explained in his letter that he was a singer then and did not pay the tax, but since then he has gone through a period of transformation and now wants to right himself with the world. Treasurer Christophel answered the man's letter, saying that Sacramento county was only too glad to forgive him, and incidentally informing him that the poll tax has long been abolished in California.

CLEVELAND LICKS THE PLATTER CLEAN

Cleveland won both of the holiday games in Boston yesterday by scores of 4 to 3 and 3 to 2. The two victories gave the Indians a clean sweep of the present series, each contest being decided by the margin of one run. Lack of hitting power cost the Red Sox dearly. They started a ninth inning rally in the forenoon tilt, but were stopped short by Joe Wood with the tying run on the bases. The old Boston speedster made his 1919 debut in the box and throttled the champions. In the matinee show Penneck was hit harder than Guy Morton. Speaker's double and a safe bunt by Larry Gardner sent Cleveland the odd run. Babe Ruth hammered a home run into the right field bleachers in the sixth inning. Chicago cleaned up the Philadelphia series by taking the final game, 7 to 6. Faber was batted hard, but Kerr stopped the noise. Johnson held the Tigers to four hits and won, 2 to 1. Shore pitched his first full game of the year against St. Louis and although hit hard at times, defeated the Browns, 5 to 2.

LOWELL ELKS WIN

Revere Lodge Defeated in Baseball, 5 to 2

Playing steady ball in the field and hitting opportunely, the baseball nine of the Lowell lodge of Elks won the fraternal championship of New England yesterday when the Elks of Revere were defeated during the Elks' field day festivities at Medford, by the score of 5 to 2. George Mangan and Harry Pitts did the battery work for the Lowell lodge and performed splendidly. Lowell had a cheering section, led by Commissioner James E. Donnelly, 100 strong, and furnished plenty of noisy support. The local lodge carried away a large silver trophy for its victory, the first to be won by the Lowell Elks for 15 years.

BOZDEK'S PIRATES ARE RUNNING WILD

Rain again forced the Braves to remain idle in Cincinnati yesterday. Pittsburgh, going great guns, topped the Phillies, 6 to 0. Miller pitched sensational ball, allowing but five hits, while Jacobs was hit timely and frequently. A home run drive by Duke Faskert gave Chicago a lead which New York could not overcome, the Cubs winning, 7 to 2. Causey was driven from the box and was replaced by Don Carlos "Pat" Ragan.

MORAN OUT TO BEAT CHARLIE PARKER

If Johnny Moran of Lowell who topped over opponents at a rapid clip while a member of the U. S. navy and succeeded in winning the lightweight championship of the fleet continues his victorious record and disposes of Charlie Parker at the Crescent A. A. tomorrow night he will take a big step toward the New England lightweight title. Since returning to civilian life he has won two clean cut victories and he is set on attaining the championship. A win tomorrow night will put him in line for matches with Kloby Britt or any other man of his weight in this section. He has trained carefully for the bout, boxing daily with Frank Molins and Phinney Hoyle, and both aver that he is in great condition and should win over Parker. Boyle has met Parker twice, and after boxing with Moran, he feels that Moran has the ability to turn back the hard hitting Boston boy. Despite the other night, Parker feels confident that he will regain his lost prestige and put Moran out of the way. There is much interest in the semi-final scheduled for tomorrow night between Tony Valtan and Young Claskas. Both are rugged and aggressive fighters, with splendid records. Haplo Conley of Lowell and Charlie Brennan of Lawrence, two great rivals, will meet in one preliminary and Young Diamond and Willie Green, both local boys, will appear in the other six-round event.

More than 20,000 people, drawn to the college for class day and commencement exercises, saw the contest, which was a battle from start to finish. Yale won by a ninth inning rally. Sawyer, the second baseman, scoring from second on a single by Prano, third baseman. The score:

The Call'em

From all we are able to gather this fellow Kloby who took and gave his wallops along with better Y. D. boys, is now making a specialty of giving almost entirely. He gave to Boyle and repeated his gracious act against Charlie Parker. When he gives, he parcels out his wares with much gusto and considerable sting, we should imagine. He dropped Parker like a stone, a clean K. O., and incidentally it was the Boston batter's first submarine to the canvas for the full and doleful count.

A Full House

This story is given to the Call'em as very much on the up and up; indisputable, as "twice," a stranger happened along down in Georgia during a ball game between two colored nines. The team at bat had the bases full with no one out. The pitcher unwound and shot the ball over.

"One ball," droned the ump.

Again the pill floated up.

Again.

"Three balls."

And again.

"Four balls, and you-all is out."

"How come I is out?" demanded the batter, approaching the umpire, his hickory swinging.

"Because I ain't got no place to put you on the bases," came back the Ball Klem or below-the-bason-and-Dixon-line.

No Nuts in Gilead

Blonde Carl Mays must begin to feel like a second Walter Johnson. The Red Sox pitcher has really been turning in some beautiful games, but during the last 40-odd innings his team has not made a single run behind him. No-hit, no run pitching would profit him nothing under the existing conditions.

Shake 'em Up

With all the different types Stallings has tried in his outfield in the last few years it would seem that he ought somehow to strike a combination that would suit. Bul no. George has had more trouble selecting a trio of outfielders than Jack has in endeavoring to build up a team since 1914. A short while ago Red Smith was put in left field and temporarily hailed as "there." Then the Braves bought Walton Cruise from St. Louis and they had a "find." He played a week or two and Jim Thorpe was secured from the Giants, just to be used as a pinch-hitter. The latest shift is to bench Cruise and play the Indian regularly. Who's next?

LARRY CONLEY CALLS FIGHT "NO BOUT"

The bout between Joe Eagan and Tommy Robson at the Armory A. A. in Boston last night was stopped by Referee Larry Conley in the eighth round. The referee did not believe the boxers were trying their best and the fans seemed to have the same opinion and greeted the contestants with yells and cat-calls. Conley warned the fighters three times to show more action. During the bout Johnson displayed none of his former aggressiveness, Eagan doing most of the leading, but his punches lacked steam. The other bouts were good. Alie Castle or Lawrence defeated Charlie Elkins of Boston in six rounds and Young Drew of Lawrence was stopped in one round by Charlie Brennan of Charlestown.

The firemen in the Chestnut Hill district of Philadelphia were called to remove the body of a supposed dead negro from the uppermost branches of a tall Eucalyptus tree. It appears that the negro had gone aloft to prune the tree. The spring sap oozing from the newly cut twigs, filled the air with an aroma not unlike some rare Egyptian incense; a subtle breeze stirred the young leaves into a rhythmic motion, and the negro had hooked his arm over a staunch branch and passed off into the land of dreams. He has promised the firemen not to go aloft to sleep again.

The firemen in the Chestnut Hill district of Philadelphia were called to remove the body of a supposed dead negro from the uppermost branches of a tall Eucalyptus tree. It appears that the negro had gone aloft to prune the tree. The spring sap oozing from the newly cut twigs, filled the air with an aroma not unlike some rare Egyptian incense; a subtle breeze stirred the young leaves into a rhythmic motion, and the negro had hooked his arm over a staunch branch and passed off into the land of dreams. He has promised the firemen not to go aloft to sleep again.

NEW FACTS ON THE IRISH CASE

Further Evidence of Alleged Atrocities Laid Before President Wilson

Delegates Request Wilson To Urge Prompt Hearing by Impartial Tribunal

PARIS, Tuesday, June 18.—Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne, American representatives of the Irish societies in the United States, have laid before President Wilson further evidence just received of alleged atrocities against political prisoners in Ireland. Some of the witnesses were American citizens, it is said, and in the course of the evidence they say they have "examined cells in which Irish revolutionists have been confined and have found fresh blood on the walls."

Mr. Walsh and Mr. Dunne request President Wilson to immediately lay the additional facts submitted to him before the peace conference and urge a prompt hearing by an impartial tribunal. The Irish delegates have received notice from the secretary of the conference that the resolution on the Irish question passed by the United States senate has been presented to the conference. They have also been informed that their previous report on atrocities has been forwarded to the state department in Washington for transmission to congress.

Comment on MacPherson's Denial

LONDON, June 18.—While several newspapers welcome the statement made yesterday by James MacPherson, chief secretary of Ireland, as a "complete and crushing refutation of Irish-American falsehoods," the Daily News thinks he would have done better to let the charges by Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne answer themselves as some of their allegations could only be believed by those who wish to be deceived.

"As it is," the newspaper continues, "the public will not halting admissions in some of Mr. MacPherson's details. His statements scarcely conceal the fact that the present government of Ireland is purely a military occupation and that the bulk of the population is organized against it. The power of the Sinn Féin is written all over Mr. MacPherson's reply."

with the rest of the world in some scheme to prevent war, what will happen? Assuredly as the sun shall rise, every great nation will proceed to devise means for the wholesale destruction of nations. So desperate will be the next war, that all the hate and all the venom created by this struggle will be infinitesimal compared with the next.

Quoting the declaration of Senator Johnson, republican, of California, that America by virtue of her isolation does not need the European powers "as partners," Mr. McCumber said isolation had long since broken down, a European quarrel having cost this country in the past five years 50,000 lives and $40,000,000,000.

"Of course not one of us would have written the covenant just as it has come to us. But this covenant represents the deliberations of nations. It deals with complex situations. It comes to us as a compromise compact. And to secular the support of this country special have been made to us. Our Monroe Doctrine is by this instrument given a world sanction."

"The members of the league under-

take to preserve the territorial integrity only against external aggression. It has been asserted and reasserted in all the false attacks on this instrument that the United States would be compelled to help Great Britain 'preserve her domain against her own internal revolutions or rebellions. Nothing could be more false. It is only against external aggression that the league assures its protection.

"The members of the league agree to the reduction of national armaments. We have preached the reduction of armaments for years. Now, present to me, if you can, a better or a safer plan than that provided in this treaty, or else acknowledge frankly that we never intended to conform our acts to our declarations.

Referring to charges that the United States would be at a disadvantage in the league because it has only one vote, the speaker said important decisions would be made in the council where the only votes would be one each for the five great powers, with unanimous action required to effect a decision or to transfer the consideration of a question to the assembly. Answering objections that Great Britain would have too many votes in the assembly, he continued: "What would be the danger to us of having Canada, Australia and New Zealand, blood of our blood and bone of our bone, made members of the assembly? You give black Haiti a vote. You give black Liberia a vote. But you deny the great independent commonwealth of Canada the right to raise her voice."

"But you say that the question of whether the matter complained of, is a domestic one must be decided by the council. Naturally someone must decide that question. But remember that the verdict must receive the affirmative vote of every state in the world, outside the parties to the dispute, and that the whole world must wickedly, contrary to and in defiance of the provisions of the compact, conspire against the United States. And to carry out such a conspiracy each nation would commit an act of suicide by establishing a precedent that would compel it to surrender its own purely domestic powers to a world league."

Mr. McCumber also declared he personally would be opposed to leaving Germany out of the league, fearing that action might lead to future divisions and jealousies.

LOWELL Y.W.H.A. HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

The first annual banquet of the Lowell Y.W.H.A. was held at the Highland hall last evening, and the 100 members of the organization who were present unanimously voted the event a complete success. Atty. Benjamin Woronoff of Boston, a former president of the Boston Y.W.H.A., was the principal speaker of the evening.

The hall was prettily decorated with streamers of red, white and blue, potted palms and greenery. Following a most enjoyable repast an entertainment was run off under the direction of Mrs. Louis Carp, and the evening concluded with general dancing.

The entertainment program included the following numbers: Violin, duo, Miss Louise Crowley and Wesley Davey, with accompaniment by Miss Esther Crowley; songs, Rose Brownstein; cornet selections, Arthur Heller; recitation, Miss Mary Cohen; novelty dances and songs, Dora and Marie Dewire, assisted by Bernard Knopf; songs, Mae Sanderson; banjo, mandolin and piano trio, Eckland sisters; songs, May Wren.

The committee to whose efficient work the success of the event was mainly due consisted of Mrs. Louis Carp, chairman, and Mrs. M. Harris, Miss Mae Levine, Miss Bessie Braver, Mrs. Rose Bicknell, Mrs. Frank, Mrs. Leo Cohen, Miss Catherine Brest, and Miss Mildred Stoll.

FIELD FROM STAGING

Daniel Buckley, of 131 Arlington street, Lawrence, a painter employed by Dwyer & Co. of this city, fell from a second story staging at the corner of May and Thirteenth streets this morning at about 11.25 o'clock. The ambulance was summoned and the man was taken to St. John's hospital. He was not seriously injured.

Don't Postpone Window Glass Work

According to one of the best authorities, the chances of an advance in window glass prices are stronger than ever. We learn that the indications certainly are not for lower prices. The big glass houses of Boston have advanced the cost of glazing thirty cents per hour where work is done outside of that city.

This situation should prompt Lowell property owners to anticipate, rather than defer their needs in window glass and glazing.

The glaziers employed at Coburn's are practical, clean and steady workers; capable of handling the most complicated jobs of glazing. They are master-hands at restoring broken windows, shields and resetting glass in auto lamps and limousine doors.

It is now a good time to attend to repainting of windows; Coburn's men do this work neatly and quickly. They are accustomed to installing new window sash cord, and making glass repairs in all styles of show cases. In point of fact, no job is too small, or seemingly trivial for this department's best attention.

Let us have the measurements of what may now be needed in window glass—We shall be glad to give you estimates.
